BY JOHN W. WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison—The historic Fox river, which played a leading role in three centuries of state history and which is the key to the development of one of Wisconsin's most populous and prosperous industrial regions, is sick and needs treatment badly, backers of an ambitious project to rehabilitate the ancient stream told a senate committee yesterday afternoon.

RETAINS POST

Washington—(P)—Renomination of John J. Boyle, of Darlington, as federal district attorney for the Western district of Wisconsin was confirmed by the senate yesterday.

773 Million Naval Funds Bill Given Senate's Approval

Measure Sent Back to House for Action on Amendments

Washington—(P)—The senate passed today the record peace-time naval appropriation of $773,049,151. The vote was announced as 61 to 14.

The measure carries $207,293,000 for 23 new warships and $46,898,000 for the purchase of 500 new fighting planes.

It now goes back to the house for action on senate amendments. One of these eliminates a $500,000 allotment toward the construction of dirigibles.

The naval measure, as passed by the senate, carried $149,522,000 more than last year's appropriation but $371,000 less than the amount approved by the house.

Under the measure, the navy would have funds for building two new 45,000-ton battleships, two cruisers, eight destroyers, eight submarines, two small seaplane tenders and one repair ship.

One provision of the measure prohibits navy purchases of foreign goods when similar products can be produced "as and when needed" in this country.

Requests Probe Of Miners' Union

Michigan Congressman
Wants Lewis Included in Inquiry

Washington—(P)—A congressional investigation of the United Mine Workers of America and its head, John L. Lewis, was asked today by Representative Hoffman (R-Mich.).

He proposed in a resolution that a five-man committee of the house investigate the following:

"On what pretense John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers of America assume to declare that no man shall work in the coal mines until he has joined the United Mine Workers of America; and by what means and in what manner he or it intends to enforce that declaration."

"What sums have been collected and in what manner such sums have been expended by John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers of America... for the purpose of influencing or compelling workmen to join or submit to the demands of the said John L. Lewis."

"Whether the said John L. Lewis or those acting in conjunction with him intend to prevent, by mass picketing or by use of force, citizens of Kentucky or of any other place, who desire to work from going about their daily tasks."

"Whether John L. Lewis has received any assurance from any government official that, if members of the United Mine Workers of America attempt, by force, to prevent American citizens from going about their daily tasks in the mining of coal and if such attempts are opposed by state troops, the armed forces of the United States will be used to assist the said Lewis or strikers who may be engaged in such attempt in the furtherance of their plans."

Violence Breaks Out In Milwaukee Strike

Milwaukee—(P)—Two women were set upon and the tires of an automobile were slashed today as violence flared in a strike at the Allen-Bradley electrical control equipment plant.

One woman employee was slapped and her dress torn as she went through a picket line. The other on her way to work was beaten by a group of women strikers after she had been pelted with paint-filled eggs.

City Council Demands Base Wage of $500

Orders Comptroller and Treasurer to Pay
Old Scale

VOTE UNANIMOUS

Disregards Referendum
Cutting Salaries
To $250

A resolution that could be a bombshell was dropped on the city council floor last night but it didn't cause even a stir among Appleton's 18 aldermen who apparently did all their talking on the quiet and among themselves.

In brief, it was a resolution demanding $500 per year for each alderman despite the fact the electorate voted almost 3 to 1 in April to pay councilmen $250 per year.

The resolution ordered the city comptroller and city treasurer to pay aldermen $500 per year and it carried the signatures of the 18 members of the council. When it was introduced, silence followed.

The clerk called the name of each alderman and each one voted "aye." The salary issue has been a touchy one from the start. Last February, rather than face the issue of a salary cut, the aldermen ignored the question and did nothing about a 1939 salary ordinance thereby setting their own salaries at $500 per year, as in the previous year.

After suggestions that the council cut to about $350 per year, the question became a public issue when petitions carrying more than 1,500 signatures were submitted and eventually referred to voters.

Referendum Vote
The people voted 5,960 to 2,261 to cut aldermanic wages from $500 to $250 per year. The city comptroller made out aldermen's checks on the basis of $250 per year and they were refused by the finance committee to date.

No. 13 of the council rules finally was settled for this year when the council voted last night to leave it as it is except that purchases over $50 may not be made by an individual. The old rule set the amount at $100. Purchases over $50 must be authorized by the comptroller, the mayor, the committee in charge or the council in the future.

Alderman Keller's proposed ordinance setting up a purchasing agent and department was not discussed.

Sees Threats to Vital Interests

Secretary of State Says
They are Growing in Number and Places

Washington—(P)—Secretary Hull told congress today this country's vital interests "are being threatened in an increasing number of places and to an increasingly alarming degree."

Hull testified before a house appropriations subcommittee during hearings on the annual supply bill for the state, justice and commerce departments. Based on the subcommittee's findings, the full committee recommended $121,399,120 to run the three departments during the year starting July 1.

A transcript of the subcommittee testimony was made public when the bill was presented to the house. "Situations which a few years ago we would have considered as incredible and as impossible of existing in our relations with other states," Hull testified, "are with us today as a reality and have to be dealt with in the most concrete fashion every day."

Asserting the burden on the state department was increasing, Hull added:

"The conditions which we have to face in the world today are very much worse than those which confronted us when I was last before you. I did not mislead you then and I am now equally earnest when I say that the responsibilities of this department will greatly increase during the coming years—and this entirely independent of the question as to whether there will be peace or war."

Explosion Kills Five
British Army Gunners

London—(P)—The war office announced five British army gunners were killed and six injured today in an explosion at Woolwich arsenal.

The explosion occurred during the loading of a 37-inch anti-aircraft gun. An investigation was begun.

Today's was the most serious accident at Woolwich since five men were killed in 1935 during secret experiments with artillery ammunition.

However, it is not the cancer which amazes the doctors. Something else is evident which looks possibly like a great medical discovery.

SEC CHAIRMAN

Washington—(P)—Jerome Frank of New York was elected chairman of the securities and exchange commission today. The vote was unanimous. An SEC official said that Commissioner Robert E. Healy and George C. Mathew voted against Frank. The vote followed the swearing in of Leon Henderson as a commissioner. Henderson was named to the commission by President Roosevelt to fill the vacancy created by the retirement of Chairman William O. Douglas to become a supreme court justice.

Senate Postpones Final Action on Budget Measure

Meets Tonight; Expected To Reject All Proposals for Increases

Madison—(P)—Final action on the $67,700,000 budget bill was postponed until 7:30 tonight when the senate recessed after preliminary roll calls indicated majority forces would reject all amendments to increase state appropriations.

After killing seven amendments, party leaders at noon agreed to a recess when consideration of a proposal to boost the University of Wisconsin allotments appeared due for lengthy debate.

The amendment by Senators Riser (P) Madison, and Shearer (R) Kenosha, would restore to the university approximately $175,000 annually, lost by assembly approval of a flat 5 per cent cut on all state departments over the amounts recommended by the joint finance committee.

Riser said the university already had suffered a 10 per cent reduction in its appropriation and that its educational facilities might be impaired if the additional 5 per cent was exacted.

University students jammed the galleries.

Asks U. W. Economy
Senator Bolens (D) Port Washington, contended the university, along with all other state departments, could "stand a little economy." He said President Clarence

Bund Leader and 7 Associates Facing 40 Tax Law Charges

New York—(P)—A report accusing Fritz Kuhn, president of the German-American Bund, and seven business associates of 40 violations of city relief tax laws, was turned over to District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey today. Mayor LaGuardia sent the prosecutor for "such prosecutive action... as you may deem proper."

Conviction on the offenses listed in the 42-page report, all misdemeanors, would carry a maximum punishment of six years in prison and $6,000 in fines.

Four corporations connected with activities of the bund also were accused of tax delinquencies. The report was prepared by William D. Herlihy, commissioner of investigation, after a lengthy inquiry into bund affairs.

The report charged Kuhn, his associates, and the corporations with six types of misdemeanor—filing fraudulent tax returns, failing to file sales tax returns, failing to register as a vendor, failing to keep records to compute a sales tax, failing to file business tax returns and failing to file personal property tax returns.

Balzer's Election Is Upheld by Committee

Madison—(P)—Assemblyman Mark Catlin (R), Appleton, chairman of the house elections committee, announced today the committee had upheld the election of Assemblyman Arthur J. Balzer (D) West Allis.

175,000 Jews Assail Edict In Palestine

March in Protest Against Order Establishing Arab Control

25 PERSONS HURT

Most Bitter Demonstrations are Reported
At Tel Aviv

Jerusalem—(P)—Jews of all ages, estimated by their leaders at 175,000 strong, marched and shouted in demonstrations throughout Palestine today, protesting against the British government's decision to establish an independent Palestine under Arab control.

Up to noon the demonstrations were free of disorder such as a clash last night at Tel Aviv in which 25 persons were injured.

Jews said 40,000 persons took part in the Jerusalem demonstration, a similar number of Haifa, an even larger throng at Tel Aviv and additional thousands in agricultural settlements.

In Jerusalem, the demonstrators formed a procession, eight abreast, behind the chief rabbi and marched to an open space in the Jewish quarter.

Few Arabs appeared and all non-Jewish traffic was diverted by police from the main streets. A police guard, one of the heaviest in recent times, was the alert at all government buildings.

Arab Comment
Frequent Arab comment on the British plan was, "this is full evidence that Britain has realized the need of Muslim aid—for defense of the empire."

The fighting at Tel Aviv last night broke out when several thousand Jewish youths, according to British reports, set fire to government district offices and then kept a fire brigade from going to the blaze. The injuries resulted, it was reported, when police fired in the air and then charged with batons.

Authorities, however, believed Jewish opinion generally was against violence and that sponsored Jewish protests would take the form of a passive resistance campaign after the pattern set by Mohandas K. Gandhi in India.

Many Arabs expressed satisfaction with the new British policy, although extremists reserved their decision until an announcement by their grand mufti from Beirut, and some wanted further concessions.

Steel-helmeted police patrolled Holy Land cities as Jews suspended business for 24 hours in a "protest strike."

Bombs damaged the immigration building in Jerusalem, and a copy of the white paper—through which the British government announced its new plan—was burned ceremoniously at Haifa.

Assembly Favors Hospital Groups

But Defeats Plan for Cooperative Hospital,
Medical Care

Madison—(P)—The assembly today concurred in a senate bill setting up non-profit hospital service corporations, but defeated the Biemiller bill for cooperative hospital and medical care.

The senate measure, approved 92 to 2 under suspension of the rules, was introduced at the request of the Wisconsin Conference of Catholic Hospitals, the Wisconsin Hospital association and the state medical society, and now goes to Governor Heil for signature.

It enables the organization of non-stock, non-profit corporations for the purpose of providing hospital services only and provides that the corporations must associate with hospital groups of no less than six and have a total of not less than 600 beds.

Corporations would be required to file annual reports with the insurance commissioner, who would have to examine the affairs of the organization at least every three years.

The bill provides that corporations be made up of three non-medical members, and one representative from each of the participating hospitals, all for terms of one year. Participants under these plans would be known as "subscribers."

Biemiller's measure, defeated 62 to 29, provided enabling legislation allowing the voluntary formation of associations of individuals and physicians to provide for both hospital and medical care on a cooperative basis, with penalties for discrimination against such groups by doctors, hospitals or others. A motion to reconsider it was defeated.

Relatives Lose Hope For Life of Aviator

Chicago—(P)—Relatives on both sides of the Atlantic virtually abandoned hope today for the safety of Charles Backman, Chicago aviator, who was on an attempted solo flight from Newfoundland to Stockholm.

The 34-year-old flier has been unreported since his skiff early Tuesday. Backman's small, 90-horsepower monoplaner carried sufficient fuel for a 45 hour flight. He had begun making the crossing in 29 hours.

Backman's brothers, Andrew and Gust of Chicago, said they had lost hope for his safe arrival. In Sweden another brother expressed fear he had been forced down at sea. Backman's craft carried no radio.

Kentucky Troops Exchange Gunfire With Ambushers

Montreal Welcomes Britain's
King and Queen on First Stop
Of Their Dominion Train Tour

Montreal—(P)—King George VI and Queen Elizabeth arrived here today, destination of their first day's travel on a historic 6,000-mile tour of Canada and the United States aboard their private train, at 12:15 p. m., C. S. T.

The royal train, which will be their traveling palace for the next month, pulled into Jean Talon station in North Montreal after a trip from Quebec which included a 17-minute stop at Three Rivers.

Quebec—(P)—The path of empire across Canada and to the far Pacific lay before King George and Queen Elizabeth on their one-month train tour starting today.

The king and queen left Quebec citadel, their stopping place for the first night of British reigning monarch ever had spent on the soil of the western world, at 7:10 a. m. (C. S. T.) and 22 minutes later began the first overland stage of their historic trip.

Crowds raised a thunderous farewell cheer as the king and queen passed into Palais station to board the train.

King George wore the uniform of an admiral of the fleet and the queen a light blue suit. A fur was wrapped around her shoulders as they stepped into an open automobile in bright but crisp weather than yesterday.

On the way to the station the king inspected a guard of honor of Queen's Own Rifles of Canada, while Queen Elizabeth chatted with Lieutenant-Governor E. L. Patenaude.

Assured Of Loyalty
Welcomed with cheers and pledges of loyalty to this old, rock-like guardian city of his western realm yesterday, the British monarch and his queen were ready for a route trod in the past by adventurers, missionaries, Indian traders, missionaries and fighting armies.

The drive through the city, a civic dinner and a reception made up of the day's program before their majesties' departure to sleep tonight.

Leaders in Paper Industry Meet for Institute Session

Governor Heil Will be Guest at Executives'
Banquet Friday

Paper industry executives from all sections of the country were arriving in Appleton this morning for the fourth annual executives' conference today and tomorrow at the Institute of Paper Chemistry.

Following registration, the visitors made inspection tours of the institute, viewing additions made during the last year to the equipment and facilities and watching demonstrations by the candidates for Masters and Doctors' degrees of their thesis apparatus.

Dr. C. A. Borgese, professor of Italian literature at the University of Chicago, will be principal speaker at the banquet at 7 o'clock this evening at the North Shore Golf club. Dr. Borgese, formerly professor of German literature at the Universities of Rome and Milan, was head of the Press and Propaganda Bureau during Orlando's premiership in Italy. Ernst Mahler, president of the American Institute of Paper Chemistry, will preside at the dinner.

Governor Julius P. Heil will be guest of honor at the final dinner at 7 o'clock Friday evening at North Shore Golf club. Dr. Thomas N. Barrows, institute director and president of Lawrence college, will preside at the banquet.

Submit Reports
Reports by Westbroke Steele, executive director of the institute, and Dr. H. F. Lewis, dean of the institute, were given this afternoon at a luncheon at North Shore Golf club. D. C. Everest, president and general manager of the Marathon Paper mills company and vice president of the board of institute trustees, presided at the meeting.

Students' papers were presented following the luncheon. They were: "An Investigation of the Coloring Matter of Sulfite Liquor" by Linton E. Simerl; "A Photocolorimetric Study of Furfural and Related Compounds" by Robert A. Stillings; "A Study of the Flocculation and Dispersion of Paper-Making Fibers" by August Eppesmaier; and "A Study of the Relation Between..."

Lindbergh States Reich Tops U. S. in Military Aviation

Washington—(P)—A congressional drive to alter the army air corps expansion program gained headway today as the strength of testimony by Colonel Charles Lindbergh that Germany excels the United States in military aviation.

Several members of a house appropriations subcommittee have criticized the army's plan to hold 2,163 of its projected 5,500 fighting planes in reserve. They have suggested, instead, some of the money be diverted for aviation research and experimentation.

Although Lindbergh was quoted as endorsing the reserve, these members contended when he recommended to the subcommittee yesterday that the government step up research activities.

Lindbergh spoke at a closed session of the group during its consideration of additional army appropriations totaling more than $300,000,000. This figure included $250,000,000 for the air corps, $32,500,000 for so-called educational orders to train private industry in the manufacture of munitions, and $27,000,000 for increasing the garrison of the Panama Canal Zone.

Truck Driver Burns To Death in Accident

Shoals Ind.—(P)—Olaf Bundy, 33, of Centuria, Ill., transport truck driver, was burned to death today as his truck caught fire after overturning eight miles south of this city. The truck left the pavement and crashed into an embankment.

Howard Albertson and John Moore, driving behind Bundy on another truck, identified the victim.

Shootings Reported In Two Areas in Harlan Zone NO CASUALTIES

Guardsmen Attack After Six Workers at Mine
Face Bullets

Harlan, Ky.—(P)—Two outbreaks of gunfire, one between state troops and an ambushed group with no casualties marked increasing tension today in the Harlan county soft coal field labor strife.

C. V. Bennett, operator of the Harlan Central Coal company at Totz, reported "snipers" in the mountains fired about ten shots at men returning to work. Bennett said the troops on duty did not answer the fusillade. The mine suspended operations temporarily.

Brigadier General Ellerbe Carter, commanding the national guard troops in the county, said 43 miners from Totz appealed to him for protection against union pickets.

The delegation, led by Bob Cowan, told Carter:

"We fellows have families to feed and we want to go back to work but pickets are threatening us and saying they would beat hell out of us if we went to work."

The general told the group they would be given "full protection." General Carter said he would make a "thorough investigation" of the shooting. He said he received a report on the ambush affair to this effect:

A group of six miners ascending by cable car to the pit head of Highpoint Mine No. 2, approximately 20 miles northwest of here, were fired upon about 5:30 a. m. from a wooded hillside.

Four guardsmen stationed at the mine fired into the woods. Their shots were returned and several rounds were exchanged before the militiamen rushed the hillside.

The troops reported they found only a quantity of empty buckshot shells in the wooded area.

Electricity Out
Dynamite also figured in the day's disorders.

W. E. Arnold, Harlan manager of the Kentucky Utilities Inc., said a 20-minute electric power failure, affecting half the county, resulted from the dynamiting of a power line pole in a mountainous section near Benham, 12 miles east of Harlan. The power was switched to another circuit.

The shooting was the first to be reported involving soldiers since they moved into the county last weekend on orders of Governor A. B. Chandler.

Before the gunfire incident, the full strength of the Kentucky National Guard—2,300 men—had been made ready for duty in this section. In announcing additional troops were available, Brigadier General Carter said:

"The situation will be handled if it takes all the national guard in Kentucky."

Previously, the general had declared the troops "are under orders to shoot and to shoot to kill if necessary."

Tension increased along picket lines at the mines and where militiamen placed blockades along the highways.

This field is the largest bituminous area in the nation holding out against the union shop contract of the United Mine Workers (CIO).

Federal Conciliator John Conner was expected here today from Washington to act as mediator in an effort to settle the miner-operator differences and end the strife between the two. Governor Chandler also offered his help to end the deadlock.

Despite preparations of the militia for any eventuality, there was a spark of hope for success in resumption of negotiations between operators and union representatives of the Harlan field today.

This hope came in the brief, first public statement of W. J. Cunningham.

Johns Wants U. S. to Develop Manitowoc Citizenship Day Idea

Washington—(P)—Representative Johns (R-Wis.) believes congress should use the observance of citizenship day at Manitowoc, Wis., May 21 as a pattern for a national development of that idea.

In a statement to the house published today, Johns said the benefits of such an observance should be spread to reach the 2,500,000 young men and women in the nation who annually were inducted into the "grave responsibilities and exceptional privileges" of citizenship.

"The young man or woman of today must be impressed," he said, "with the fact that citizenship carries with it grave duties and responsibilities as well as privileges."

Economy Group Wins Two Tilts On Funds Bills

Senate Beats Ship Canal Project; House Cuts River-Harbor Total

Washington—(AP)—The house passed and sent to the senate today a bill authorizing 70 rivers and harbors projects over the nation. They would cost $83,728,100.

Passage came on a voice vote after the house had refused to put back into the legislation authority for construction of the $23,700,000 Umatilla navigation dam on the Columbia river and for a $66,000,000 waterway connecting the Tennessee and Tombigbee rivers.

The Umatilla project was defeated finally on a voice vote, while the Tennessee-Tombigbee development lost on a roll call vote announced as 204 to 162.

Washington—(AP)—Congressional economy advocates were riding high today after the senate defeated the $200,000,000 Florida canal project and the house tentatively cut nearly a third from a $120,000,000 bill for river and harbor improvements.

There were cloakroom reports that Vice President Garner had a hand in the fight against the Florida waterway, a proposal which bore approval of President Roosevelt and the war and navy departments.

Just late yesterday by a vote of 36 to 45, Twenty-one Republicans voted "No" as a unit, and were joined by 23 Democrats and Senator LaFollette (P-Wis.). The only senators other than Democrats supporting the bill were Norris (I-Meb.) and Lundeen (F. L-Minn.).

Despite this setback, the outlook for eventual authorization of the 195-mile canal across northern Florida from the Atlantic to the Gulf of Mexico was declared good by its sponsor, Representative Green (D-Fla.) said he would try to get house action at this session.

Fight in House

Just as senate Republicans were active against the canal bill, the minority party in the house led the fight yesterday to reduce the river and harbor appropriations.

With few Democrats present, the house struck out a $23,700,000 item for the proposed Umatilla dam on the Columbia river in Oregon and Washington and a $125,000 authorization for a waterway connecting the Tombigbee and Tennessee rivers. An attempt to add $12,244,000 for a navigation and power development project on the Connecticut river lost, 98 to 36.

A final vote on the bill was held over until today, giving sponsors a chance to seek reversal of these divisions.

Appropriations form the bulk of the work which Representative Rayburn, Democratic leader of the house, believes congress should complete before adjournment.

He said that "congress has got to consider" only these measures: continuation of certain excise and corporation taxes, President Roosevelt's request for $1,750,000,000 for relief next year, the commerce-state-justice department appropriation bill, and the usual last-minute deficiency appropriation bill.

Expect More Than 1,400 to Register At Senior School

Advanced registration figures at Appleton High school indicate that the enrollment next year will be comparable to that of this year, school authorities said today.

To date 460 sophomores, 466 juniors and 423 seniors have registered bringing the total to 1,374 students. Summer registration and selection of programs for absentees will raise the total above the 1,400 mark, it is expected.

Advanced registration slips are being checked and students are being assigned to classes. On May 31, upperclassmen will rehearse their programs for next year while the new sophomores will visit the high school June 2.

The school year officially closes June 2 and will be resumed Sept. 11.

Governor Labels May 21 as State Citizenship Day

Manitowoc Plans Program For Formal Induction Of New Voters

Madison—(AP)—Governor Heil issued a proclamation today officially setting aside May 21 as citizenship day in Wisconsin.

Manitowoc—first city in the state to arrange a celebration—will have a special program on that day for formal induction of new voters into the rights of citizenship.

The legislature adopted a resolution asking the governor to designate the third Sunday in May for a statewide observance.

"While the legislative command is permissive and not mandatory, I am in hearty accord with its sentiment," the chief executive said.

"Long ago it was observed by a great American that eternal vigilance is the price of liberty. We are prone to accept our American institutions as something permanent and indestructible."

The proclamation added that sovereign power, under a democracy, rests with the people if they grow indifferent to their political responsibilities the republic is in danger.

"Every citizen should show his appreciation of the fact that under our constitution every individual is guaranteed the right to his life, his liberty and the pursuit of happiness. These rights can only be maintained by a government pursuant to the will of the majority of the people and that the responsibility for that government rests equally upon each individual citizen," the proclamation said.

Examine 125 Crippled Children at Clinic

Madison—(AP)—One hundred twenty-five children from 17 counties were examined at an orthopedic clinic held in Neillsville last Saturday, the crippled children division of the state department of public instruction announced today.

The counties were Barron, Chippewa, Clark, Dunn, Eau Claire, Jackson, La Crosse, Marathon, Monroe, Polk, Price, St. Croix, Shawano, Taylor, Trempealeau and Wood.

'Kiss of Death Woman' Under Arrest in Probe of Murder Syndicate in Philadelphia

New York—(AP)—The federal bureau of investigation today announced the arrest of Rose Carina, "the kiss of death woman" in connection with the Philadelphia investigation into a mass murder syndicate.

Dwight Brantley, agent in charge, said the woman was taken into custody early today and would be removed to Philadelphia later. He declined to disclose details of the arrest or where she was found.

Rose Carina was five times a wife and three times a widow. Various persons questioned by Philadelphia authorities in connection with the case have described her as "Rose of death" and "the kiss of death woman."

Rose's first husband Antonio Carbonaro, from whom she was divorced, now lives in New Sharon, N. J. Her second husband was Dominick Carina, who died in 1931. Her third husband, Prosper Antonio Lesi, died in 1933.

Pietro Sica, a Philadelphia grocer, was her fourth husband. He died in the fall of 1934, and later she married Isadore Tropea. Tropea, a semi-invalid, suffering from a stomach ailment, lives with relatives in South Philadelphia.

Philadelphia authorities have named her one of the principal actors in the bizarre crime drama. Police Captain James Kelly of Philadelphia described her as the "professional widow" used by the ring to trap prospective victims. She is wanted, he said, on a warrant charging conspiracy.

Twelve widows linked with the ring already are in custody. Some 50 deaths have been attributed to the "murder-for-insurance" conspirators and authorities conceded there might be many more, as almost unbelievable new ramifications are uncovered practically every day.

A. Dykstra, formerly city manager of Cincinnati, had "forgotten" how to save money when he came to Wisconsin.

When Senator Kresky (P) Green Bay, who spoke for five hours against repeal of the Wisconsin Development Authority appropriations during a night session, warned he "wasn't ready to vote" but wished to discuss the amendment, the recess was taken.

Senator White (R) River Falls, who several weeks ago wrote a letter to Governor Heil expressing dissatisfaction with budget provisions for the state's nine technical colleges, was ready to introduce tonight an amendment providing for a similar 5 per cent restoration.

Students who had planned a march on the senate to protest an estimated $1,000,000 annual cut in the university's appropriations instead filed into the galleries in small groups. Less than 50 students were reported to have appeared at a campus demonstration led by William Erin, LaCrosse.

Orders Omaha Cops to Soften Their Remarks

Omaha, Neb.—(AP)—Omaha cops have to quit being so tough, Commissioner Richard Jensen said so in a letter to Chief J. P. Szpanowski banning such tried and true police phrases as:

"Where do you think you are, on a race track?"

"Where's the fire?"

"Can't you read signs?"

And, said the commissioner, "I don't mean maybe."

REJECT PROPOSAL

Madison—(AP)—The public service commission today denied for the second time the proposal of the North Western road to substitute caretaker for agency service at its station in Lyndhurst, Shawano county.

Need Reservoir On Wolf River to Save Mills Here

Industrialists Urge State Senate to Vote Charter to Company

loudly in recent years about the water conditions of the Fox river.

"Millions of fish have died. The paper mills need cleaner water for their process work, and the water-works need better water."

Has Wide Support

Seaborn said that almost all of the industrial water power users in the valley will support the Wolf river plan.

"The manufacturers of paper in the Fox river valley are fighting greater and greater difficulties in getting water for paper. We have dug wells, but we run into iron and hard water. We lost $12,000 digging one well."

He pointed to the putrefaction in the Fox river in the summer months and its menace to the health of the communities which adjoin it. The proposed reservoir is in a remote part of the north, he pointed out, and is ready for development.

Brooks said that the area proposed to be flooded is cut-over land and swamp. It should be about 50 miles north of Shawano, and would affect no highways, or farms. The possibility of stench on the flowage during the warm season, he argued after questioning, will be tolerable if it is the means toward alleviating similar conditions in the densely populated areas adjacent to Lake Winnebago and the Fox river.

Brooks said that the release of water from the reservoir would enable the development of 12,000,000 extra kilowatt hours of energy for Fox River Valley manufacturing plants. "That must mean extra employment," he said.

The Wolf river storage plan is equal in feasibility to the Flambeau or Eau Claire storages which have been functioning successfully, he contended.

Brooks told the committee that the preparation of the reservoir, because of its natural advantages, would cost only about $300,000, and that if the legislature approves a charter, the company is prepared to begin operations this summer with a crew of 200 men.

About $100,000 will be raised in a stock issue, while $200,000 will be represented in bond borrowings, he said.

There were no opponents to the plan at the hearing, but A. H. Smith and F. G. Wilson of the state conservation department appeared to register some objections.

Wilson said that such river developments are generally "whole-some and in the public interest," but that the Wolf River reservoir would destroy the upper reaches of the Wolf for trout fishing.

Suggests Other Site

Although the plan is definitely "in the public interest" by its industrial and flood control advantages, he wondered whether the Leeman site, often mentioned in previous discussion of possible Wolf River control, would not be equally feasible. The Leeman development, he said, would not impair the virgin conditions of the Wolf farther north particularly in the Indian reservation, he said.

Damming up the water in an upper Wolf reservoir, the conservationist maintained, would increase water temperatures to a degree which would be fatal to fish life. Farther downstream, at Leeman, the water temperatures are higher anyway, he said.

Smith thought that reservoir developments have exceeded the demand for them. He also suggested the Leeman site for the reservoir, supplemented by diversion of water from the possible Wolf River.

He also wanted an amendment to the charter bill requiring the company to maintain a minimum low level in its flowage in order to protect fish life during the periods of low water.

Brooks disputed the claims of the conservation department representatives. The proposed reservoir would be deep enough, he promised, to prevent rises in temperatures which would kill fish. He also pointed to a recent engineering report which pronounced the proposed Wisconsin-Fox diversion plan as impractical.

Seaborn told the senators that his firm has investigated the Leeman site but that it was found to be too expensive because of the higher real estate values there. The land is eight times as high in price there as at the site north of Lily, he reported. "It wouldn't pay for itself, and we wouldn't want to participate in it," he announced.

Protect Industry

Weekworth polished off the arguments for the plan with the admonition to the senators that "we ought to pay some attention to the conservation of industries in Wisconsin" as well as the conservation of fish.

At one time, he said, Kaukauna had fifteen thriving small industries using water power of the Fox River. Most of them discontinued operations. The cessation of the water table, and the condition of the water, have recently caused the loss of three paper mills to the area. Two of them discontinued operations entirely, and a third moved to a southern state where tax and other concessions were offered, he said.

"Something has got to be done about helping industry in Wisconsin. The remaining industries are relying on good water to compete with the South. We've got to do something for industry as well as for the fishermen."

Manitowoc Rounds Out Preparations For Citizenship Day

Manitowoc—(AP)—Weeks of instruction in the obligations as well as privileges of American citizenship will be climaxed Sunday when Manitowoc formally bestows citizenship certificates upon youths of the county who have reached voting age.

Manitowoc pioneered the idea of making an event of attainment of citizenship by native born Americans and has arranged an elaborate program of welcome for the new citizens.

Because Governor Heil will be unable to be present, George P. Hambrecht director of the state vocational schools will preside at the certificates, after the induction ceremony is conducted by Chief Justice Marvin B. Rosenberry of the state supreme court. Among the principal speakers will be Clarence Dykstra, president of the University of Wisconsin.

A parade will precede the presentation, 28 governmental units, 12 bands and dozens of organizations will participate. Approximately 50 floats, many of them depicting historic and idealistic phases of America and democracy, have been entered.

Warehouse to be Scene of G. O. P. Rally at Chicago

Transform Building to Resemble Hall Where Lincoln Was Named

Chicago—(AP)—Carpenters transformed a warehouse into a meeting hall today so Republicans might observe tonight the 79th anniversary of the nomination of Abraham Lincoln as Republican choice for president of the United States on the site where the candidate was named.

A rubber company storage building now stands at Market and Lake streets, the site of the Chicago warehouse, where Lincoln won the nomination after William H. Seward of New York sought victory after noon of May 18, 1860. The company has permitted sponsors of the Wigwag day celebration to remodel the building as much as possible to give it the atmosphere of the original hall.

Built in 1860

Anti-slavery leaders 79 years ago decided to erect the "largest audience room in the United States" for the first nominating convention to meet in Chicago. Nickels and dimes collected from among Chicago's 110,000 residents of 1860 built the original two-story frame structure. The cost was between $5,000 and $6,000.

Senator H. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, the principal speaker at tonight's celebration, chose "The American I Want" for his subject. His address will be broadcast over the Mutual network from 8 to 8:30 p. m. Central Standard time.

A brief scene dramatizing Lincoln's acceptance of the nomination will be staged. Other speakers will include Colonel Frank Knox, Chicago publisher and 1936 Republican candidate for vice president; John D. M. Hamilton, national Republican committee chairman.

Hitler, Mussolini are 'Good Poker Players,' Writer Says

The author of the "war or peace" letter which follows is convinced that Hitler and Mussolini are "good poker players," that they are masters at the art of bluffing. Besides, he says, the world isn't mad enough to fight right now.

"The United States will not engage in war in the immediate future. There is about a 20 per cent chance of a general European war and if this comes, there is no question as to which side we should favor. It must be the allies."

"However, we had plenty of unpleasant experiences and bad debts as a result of the last war and the chance of our getting in another is slim."

"In the first place, we are not mad enough to fight. The present administration is rather strongly anti-fascist and in case of war in Europe, we shall no doubt be called upon to supply materials. It would take more than a year to get us worked up to a fighting fever and by that time we would probably have a new administration, one less aggressive and more inclined toward peace."

"The fascist countries will have more than their hands full without fighting the United States. It is certain they would not offend the United States and encourage us to declare war."

Palestine Jews Claim British Promise Broken; Move Afoot to Adopt Non-Cooperation Policy

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE

New York—(AP)—Jerusalem's ancient walls will echo today-day of mourning—with the lamentations of Judaism because of blighted hopes for the restoration of Israel through the creation of a national home, in the form of a Jewish commonwealth, in Palestine.

Jewry charges that the new British plan for the gradual transition of Palestine into an independent state with a permanent Arab-Jewish majority represented abandonment of a promise to establish such a home-Jewish goal of ages.

A Jewish crusade of non-cooperation with the British government in Palestine has been announced by the Jerusalem Post, an English-language newspaper—"to defeat the policy which is about to be imposed."

Gandhi's Favorite Tactics

Non-cooperation is a two-handed sword, and a terrible weapon to meet it wielded by strong arms. It has been a favorite instrument of the powerful Indian leader, Gandhi.

Non-cooperation is calculated to paralyze government. An air-tight campaign means a cessation of all normal public activities, for that matter.

In the case of Palestine it would involve, among other things, the concerted effort of the Jewish population (and maybe the Arabs) to withhold financial support from the government. And the Jews provide 70 per cent of the present revenue.

The near east's dread Jewish scourge couldn't create greater devastation than non-cooperation on the part of all the citizens.

The background of the present crisis is this, on thumbnail: In 1917 Arthur Balfour, British foreign minister, made the now famous Balfour declaration which promised Britain's best endeavors to establish a national home for Jews in Palestine. At the same time the Arabs claimed that England had promised them sovereignty over Palestine in order to secure their support in the world war.

The British went ahead with the national home scheme, and Jewish immigration proceeded until the late British figures give 411,000 Jews in the Holy Land as against a million Arabs. The Arabs have registered. There have been Arab-Jewish clashes, and Arab challenges to the government.

The whole period since the war has been marked with bloodshed and there have been thousands of casualties. Destruction of property has run to millions of dollars.

The British have tried several plans to solve the difficulty but without success. Finally they have decided on the present action, which means maintenance of the present complexion of the population, that is, a heavy Arabian majority.

England maintains that she has fulfilled her pledge to Judaism in carrying the project as far as she has. But from the standpoint of Judaism, the idea of a national home for Jews has been chucked overboard.

New Deal Will Give Capitalism Thorough Probe, Clapper Says

Washington—We are entering, without fanfare, a new phase of the New Deal, one in which our system of capitalism will be probed to its deepest roots. Our system has been chronically sick for the last decade. Some within the administration feel that fundamental changes have taken place to alter completely the nature of our system.

I wish I could make this as interesting as the quarrel over corned beef in which cattle congressmen are tearing their hair and getting re-election votes by staging a dog fight over a small navy order of canned Argentine beef which, in comparison with the amount of American beef consumed every year, is as one hamburger sandwich to a herd of 15,000 cattle. Trivial issues can be exciting. The larger ones move with the imperceptible progress of a glacier—but with equal irresistibility. So that they are important but uninteresting.

Nothing spectacular will emerge, for the present at least, from the activity now going on, but you may be sure that a period of the most profound questioning of our system and its failure to function more effectively has been entered.

Raymond Clapper In their franker moments, the most loyal New Dealers will confess that in the six years of this administration the answers to the paradox of want in the midst of plenty have not been found. Mrs. Roosevelt said recently that the New Deal had bought time in which to study and think. She thus echoed the innermost feelings of the thoughtful people in the administration.

Mr. Roosevelt has done much tinkering with the capitalist system. There have been regulatory measures, such as stock market and securities control and wages-and-hours legislation, both essentially protective measures for the public.

Fast Six Years Showed Pump Priming Won't Work Otherwise the administration has operated in its broader economics on the pump-priming theory. It hoped that if government funds were pumped in at the bottom of the social structure, through relief payments, farm benefits and public works, then private initiative would be stimulated. Then the system, by this priming, would catch on and run on its own steam. But after six years the unemployment figures show that pump-priming has not worked.

Has the expansion of American economy stopped? Have we witnessed the end of our dynamic mass-production, lower-price, more-employment policy? Is our system in for stagnation or decline? Those are questions asked by Leon Henderson, new member of SEC and one of the administration economists.

They are the questions asked not only in the administration but in the hearts of many private citizens as they think now, toward the end of the 1930's, about the decade of the great depression which has defied all stimulants of the New Deal.

Those are the questions which are being examined in the new set

The election of officers will be held Tuesday morning.

Kaukauna Woman Gets Sentence of One Year

Des Moines—(A)—Federal Judge Charles A. Dewey Wednesday revoked the probation of Wilma Hermans, 28, of Kaukauna, Wis., and sentenced her to a year and a day in a federal institution. In April, 1937, she pleaded guilty to taking a stolen car from Chicago to Des Moines. She received a one-year sentence at that time and was paroled. She was rearrested at Kaukauna April 17 by federal agents.

Tree Planting Keeps Inmates of Detention Camp Busy These Days

Prisoners sent to the county detention camp at the present time will be kept busy, according to Lloyd Brooker, camp superintendent. The spring tree planting season is on and about 7,000 pine and spruce trees have been planted. About 2,500 shrubs also have been planted in the vicinity of the camp. About 20,000 more trees are ready to be planted if weather permits. This spring 65,000 trees were placed in the plant beds.

Congress Decides To Increase Fund For Office Help

Lawrence Points to Advantages in Larger Clerical Staffs

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington—When members of the house of representatives, without a roll call vote, decided this week to increase their appropriation for clerk hire by $1,500 a year, a sort of feeling of conscious guilt was promptly attached to the action. As a matter of fact, the members of congress might well have been proud of what they did, and the country would be many millions of dollars better off if the congressmen and senators had more instead of less help.

The total appropriation increase amounts to about $600,000 a year, and all it takes care of is the hiring of clerks to handle mail. The processes of democracy encourage rather than discourage letter-writing. Telling a congressman or senator what the constituent thinks is nowadays regarded as the great privilege of citizens of a free country. But when the member of congress fails to answer such a letter or telegram, he is supposed to be indifferent, discourteous or rude, and not fit to represent his district or state.

Yet the job of answering correspondence is tremendous and the job of classifying the letters and giving digests to the member of congress so that he or she may know what the trend of opinion happens to be is not something which can be done by clerks who also have to formulate and take care of the replier.

Not a few hours, but most of the hours of a congressman's office force are taken up with running down requests for information or contacting government bureaus. The larger the bureaucracy gets, the more are the chores of the congressman and senator increased.

The staffs of the 531 men and women in the house and senate are woefully inadequate, and all because of a peculiarly developed notion, bordering on the side of demagoguery, that a member of congress must never vote any money for himself or his office. Also, there have been some abuses in recent years where members of congress have had on their pay rolls their own relatives, who in some cases did no work at all, but drew a salary check.

Even conceding these abuses, which were the exception rather than the rule, the work of the members of both houses has increased enormously, and hence to measure the needs of a member of congress by what some small minority might do is unfair not only to the senators and representatives who are conscientious about it, but to the vast body of citizens whose interests are adversely affected.

Trained Employees

Not long ago, the suggestion was made by this correspondent that every member of congress should have attached to his office a person with training in economics, someone who could actually examine and furnish memoranda to the senator or representative so he would know something about the legislation he is asked to pass upon. The action just taken by the house goes only part way. It furnishes an extra clerk at $1,500, but does not really solve the major problem of getting legislation properly analyzed.

The American people pay $10,000 a year to each senator and representative. The average executive in business getting any sum of that size has a competent and adequate office staff, with specialists in his line of business and someone who can manage the office in his absence. Members of congress are supposed to be in attendance at the sessions of the house and senate as well as their committees. They cannot possibly run their offices and be on the floor and at the committee meetings and do justice to any of these three responsibilities unless they have assistance.

Suppose every member of congress had an office assistant who was not required to handle the clerical details, but could concentrate on studying legislation. Suppose also that it cost the government about $2,000,000 or thereabouts, or an average of about $4,000 a year per office. The question then would be this: would it be worth $2,000,000 a year to get intelligent legislation passed on economic problems? Suppose the theory of taxation as it deters business activity or as removal of taxes furnishes incentive to business were at the moment thoroughly understood in the office of every member of congress, would it not be logical to assume that out of such knowledge might come a real tax revision bill buttressed by facts and experience? And if American business were encouraged by a genuine tax revision plan so economic recovery would come, wouldn't the American people get a thousand times more their money's worth out of the expenditure for competent economists to help senators and representatives?

Business men have plenty of research assistants, but the facts they turn up are regarded as suspect by politically minded congressmen and senators. But if their own staffs turned up the same facts—for two and two make four, whether it is in a congressman's office or in a corporation's research bureau—there might be a different story to tell about the vast amount of economic legislation which nowadays dominates the work of both houses of congress.

Awards Presented at Wrightstown School

Hollandtown — Coach Rock of Wrightstown High school presented honor letters to the high school athletes. The boys receiving the "W" for basketball this year are: Earl Brittnacher, John Farrell, Earl Kersten, William Mc Laughlin, Gordon Mielke, Elton Schaeuble, Walter Schmidt, Norbert Van Lanen, John Van Vreede, Arthur Edinger, Clifford Brittnacher, Richard McLaughlin, Willis Buboltz and Clifford Finerly.

The following students received letters for boxing: Marvin Baeten, Donald Gonnoring, Harold Rooin, Russell Le Roy, Earl Wobek, and Norbert Schaeuble. Gold boxing gloves were given to Earl Brittnacher and Elton Schaeuble instead of letters. Robert Schaeuble was given the manager's letter for his services during the year. Awards for forensics were presented by Mr. Donner. Silver awards were given to Ruth Rongeau, first in dramatic declamations; William Mc Laughlin first in extemporaneous speaking.

When getting the furniture ready for summer sew up all holes in the linings and upholstery. A moth can easily enter a hole and cause lots of trouble. Adhesive tape is often helpful to hold loose linings in place.

Supervisors to Get Article on Highways

Copies of an article on highways written by Paul G. Hoffman and which appeared recently in a popular weekly magazine will be sent to all Outagamie county supervisors, according to Kenneth Corbett, secretary of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce. The article, "America Goes to Town," is based on a recent survey of roads in which 46 states cooperated and it discusses situations such as have prevailed in Outagamie county for a number of years, Corbett stated.

THE BLOOMING OF THE FARM SUBSIDY

The senate passed by a heavy majority appropriations for the Department of Agriculture totalling $14 billion.

This is not only the largest appropriation of this nature in the history of the country but is more than the entire sum appropriated by congress for all purposes prior to the World war.

And yet it is not enough. It is peanuts where watermelons are needed. In fact it is only the beginning for the Roosevelt policies as yet in their infancy.

First, the New Deal jacks up labor and other costs of production so that what the farmer buys is costing him a pretty penny. But at the same time its farm program flops in sour fashion so that farm income dwindles down toward the small end of the horn. We should say that if the New Deal really wanted to be consistent, and it probably regards consistency as an attribute of little minds, it should appropriate to the farmers something like 8 or 10 billions so as to alleviate them from a fair share of the distress it has occasioned.

But the disorders of the New Deal are chronic and although the fever is like that of ague, up high one month and below normal with the shivers the next, the restlessness which always accompanies this particular human ailment and distress, demands ceaseless exciting adventure. Even if the 8 or 10 billions were appropriated to the farmer we know the New Deal would go back tinkering again with the machinery of the country, raising taxes for the Washington golf players and Potomac canoers and liquidating debts to John L. Lewis and others so that the farmer would be as bad off again as before.

The New Deal's prescription is the same as ever, just borrow a few billions more. But Congressman Hatton Sumners of Texas, voted by the 60 Washington newspaper correspondents as tops in intelligence, said something the other day that might be considered appropriate in relation to government borrowing and spending:

"You come up here and ask for more and more money. Where does it come from? . . . We get the money from you and even you don't get it all back. All you need to do is look at these big buildings on Pennsylvania Avenue to realize that. We take your shirt and give you a little piece of the shirttail. Then you go back home waving it and shouting 'Look what Uncle Sam gave me!'"

EVEN 24 CENTURIES AGO

Peevishly he clawed and swatted at the insects that squirmed in his scraggly beard. For it was August and August is hot in Greece. Even the fawning look in the eyes of his servitors could not appease the wrath stimulated by the cursed heat.

The glory of his fine crusade to free the Greeks from the tyrants who ruled them had come to a pretty pass, indeed, if his Medes and Cissians, those whom he dubbed his "Immortals," must fail to push back the Hellenes simply because their spears were shorter and they could not come to the bloody grips required for fatal wounds.

The blood-red sinking sun of that first day of chagrin blazed no more fiercely as it sank into the west than did the eyes of Xerxes, sometimes dull as a toad's, as he sweated and fumed over the desperate way his troops had been thwarted. But then it was that Ephialtes came to him, bent his knee and touched the ground with his forehead as he told the mighty ruler of earth that "there is a pathway which leads across the mountains to Thermopylae."

Such was the story in the account written by Herodotus who told the details of the start of the sanguinary struggle that has scarleted the pages of history as one of the most supreme acts of courage of all time. It has made imperishable the name of Leonidas and his 300 men who fell in the narrow path of Thermopylae but stepped in its tracks the greatest army that up to that time had ever tramped the earth, and perhaps too proudest.

The other day archeologists discovered beneath the field of battle spears, arrows and other arms that had probably been used upon that classic occasion, 490 years before the Man of Sorrows stirred in the manger at Bethlehem.

It is a long time to go back to look into causes of conflicts for the centuries wipe out completely so much evidence. Why did Xerxes move out of Asia Minor to crush the Greeks? What had prompted the gathering of these mighty clans from all points of the compass under the direction of a supreme autocrat? Can it be that liberty was in danger in Greece, that democracy was threatened? What was the world to be made safe for that time?

Let not the student curl his lip in scorn at such questions. It is no occasion for a sneer. Let him, instead, peruse the causes of all the wars between nations back as far as he can find causes.

He will be astonished to learn with what frequency the claim is made that attack was justified in order to free a people who subsequently were very much astonished to know they had been enslaved.

THE LIMITATIONS OF MAN

"Oh me! for why is all around us here As if some lesser god had made the world. But had not force to shape it as he would?"

"Taken as a whole," said Bagehot, "the universe is absurd."

But how could this cynical writer take it "as a whole?" The trouble is that it has never been seen as a whole. Not, at least, by men who write upon this little sphere.

The new message brought to us by the second largest telescope in the world indicates an "atmosphere" of about 80,000 light years in diameter for the over-all dimensions of the stellar systems which merely neighbor the Milky Way, our own galaxy.

A light year is figured by multiplying the seconds in a year, the entire 32 million of them, by the speed of light which is 186,000 miles per second. A little patience with a problem involving numerous ciphers brings the conclusion that the observatory director has mentioned a distance of 480 million billion miles.

Nothing is so impressive as the extent of the universe. Its order, the strict laws which discipline it, its beauty and its cruelty are all startling, but its extent is still the most impressive thing with which man conjures, and terror and wonder still intermingle as the possibilities of that extent are even slightly considered.

The limitations upon the capacities of man are nowhere more evident than in the realization that even his imagination with all its wild flights of fancy and speculation cannot conceive a limit to the universe and yet neither can it conceive limitlessness.

When the new and greatest telescopic lens have finally been polished to perfection and put into use, short-sighted man may peer a little farther, perhaps a thousand million billion miles more, to find other earths, still more suns, huger than any he ever imagined heretofore, but still with no end in sight. Visioning distances so vast it requires light thousands of years to travel is utterly beyond man's capacity.

To call the center of the universe everywhere, and its circumference nowhere, as did Pascal, cannot be disputed since nothing concerning its confines is capable of demonstration. So each and all may have his say as befits the moment that bothers him, calling it absurd, which may have been the most absurd thing ever said, or declaring, as in Hamlet, that this "majestical roof fretted with golden fire appears no other thing to me than a foul and pestilent congregation of vapors," even though the words poured out may have been more vaporous than anything about the universe.

Abandoning big words designed into the appearance of weighty thoughts man might do better by recognizing his natural lack of any qualification to envisage the extent of the universe since he has not been endowed with the requisite senses to that end. As well might a sparrow attempt to destroy a chain of mountains, or a mouse drink the ocean dry, as man conceive the universe's possibilities, its furthestmost extent and the design which even his imagination cannot begin to picture.

"CHAW RAW BEEF"

The loss to American beef canners of the navy order which was given to a company subsidized by the Argentine is of no great importance in dollars but may be of importance in respects.

The President who personally approved the loss of the order to the American companies says that Argentine beef is better than ours. It is natural for the western beef raisers to dispute this point but Mr. Roosevelt is obviously right—at least as right as he is concerning war and financial policies. It must be marvelous to be President and know so much, and so much that is not so.

Certainly, however, the President could not complain about the price at which the American packers offered to fill the navy's order. Although the bid of Americans was 23 cents a pound while that of the Argentine company was but 15 it was not expected that the Americans would make any money of any consequence even at a high price. Independent public accountants have already certified that Armour lost $1,500,000 in 1938. Cudahy $2,000,000 and Swift $3,500,000. The President was wise, indeed, to withhold any particular stress concerning the price. With the savage provisions of various New Deal laws upon the operation of some industries and the numerous equally savage financial exactions that have been made upon them it were better not to open up that subject for discussion.

All over the world, however, where the Argentine and American companies compete, and where Americans have heretofore gained business by convincing others of the excellence of their products and the superiority of their service the Argentine needs only a new slogan, "The President of the United States says the Argentine products are better."

DALE HARRISON'S In Old New York

New York—I wonder: Whatever happened to the word "bushwa," a child of "baloney," which the glib tongued smarties used to give out so often? Why someone doesn't raise wintergreen berries and sell them to the thousands of city-locked people whose mouths, like mine, must water for them each spring? Why men who wear those shiny celluloid collars invariably have a wacky glint in their eyes? Why I never can get a hat that makes me look as well-headgeared as the Man in the Advertiser? If people really listen to those long advertising blurbs on so many radio programs? Why so many of the conductors and drivers of Fifth Avenue buses are Irish? How Count Theo Rossi De Monteleone, a 35-year-old multimillionaire and European, most eligible bachelor, has been able to spend so much time in America without succumbing to one of the many smart American misses whom he frequently cavalcades?

Jack Kirkland the onetime reporter who chucked journalism when he authorized the play, "Tobacco Road," is Broadway's most stubborn producer. He believes zealously in his own handiwork, and backs it up with his own dollars.

Currently he is concentrating upon his latest play, "Must Love Someone," a saucy drama about the famous Floradora sextette. The critics gave it poor notices. Generally that is enough to kill a show's chances of success. Kirkland, however, has faith in "Must Love Someone." He has kept it going for several weeks with his ex-wife, Nancy Carroll, as the star, believing that word-of-mouth advertising will eventually make the play popular.

The success of "Tobacco Road" was accomplished (though few know it) through Kirkland's active faith in it. The play, now on its way to setting a continuous run record that will eclipse that of "Abie's Irish Rose," was poorly received by critics. Box office business during its early days was not of a kind to encourage its producers to keep it going. Kirkland, however, was determined "Tobacco Road" should have a fair chance. He went to Hollywood shortly after the Broadway opening, and worked as a script writer at a wage of $1,000 a week—and sent every cent of his salary back to New York to keep "Tobacco Road" running. His faith has been justified beyond even his wildest dreams.

Eddie Gaar, the vaudeville and night club comic, now is the star of the show, stepping in when James Barton left. Before Barton the Jeeter Lester role was played by James Bell, and before that by Henry Hull, creator of the part.

MY YESTERDAY

The opportunity presenting itself, I sneaked off to Omaha, Nebraska, where once I labored in the cause of journalism. Rode the night through on the Twentieth Century, and was breakfasting as we poured through Elkhart, Indiana Harbor and even Englewood. Having time, I wandered about Chicago's Loop, then by the Pacific Limited across Illinois and Iowa to reach Omaha at night, about 24 hours out of New York. I was vexed that the transfer company failed to cart my luggage across town in Chicago, the consequence being that I found myself in Omaha without even a toothbrush or a comb, not to mention those red and black pajamas which are my pride.

How beautiful were Iowa's spring-ploughed fields! How rich appeared the soil; and how well-kept and freshly painted were so many of the farm buildings! Water apparently has been plentiful there, for the ground was moist and the streams meandered contentedly.

Sat for awhile on the observation platform, and the heart was cheered that whenever we passed people—trainmen, track workers or villagers—they always waved cheerily and smiled. How glorious it is to live in America!

Looking Backward

10 YEARS AGO

Thursday, May 16, 1929
The United States Golf association had adopted a larger but lighter golf ball which was to be put into play Jan. 1, 1930.

Dollar fishing licenses for residents of Wisconsin were defeated by a margin of one vote in the assembly that day.

The annual state high school track meet was to be held under the auspices of Lawrence college on Saturday. Over 40 schools were entered.

Articles of incorporation of the Fox River Wire Cloth Works, Inc., were filed Thursday morning. Members of the new company were L. H. Elsner, W. W. Elsner and T. E. Elsner, all of Appleton. Mrs. Maria Boehm was elected president of the Wednesday Musicals at the last meeting of the season Wednesday afternoon at the home of Miss Maude Harwood, E. North street. She was to succeed Miss Harwood. Other officers elected were Mrs. J. P. Frank, first vice president; Mrs. S. W. Murphy, second vice president; Mrs. William Wright, secretary; Mrs. R. W. Getschow, treasurer and Mrs. Carl Watterman, librarian.

25 YEARS AGO

Thursday, May 21, 1914
The first dog license issued in 1914 was secured by Mrs. Ida Brunschweiler. Licenses were to be obtained by June 1. The previous year there were 508 issued.

Mark Catlin the previous day shipped several head of Guernsey cattle from Greenville to his farm near Ashland.

O. P. Schlafer was in Indianapolis attending the National Hardware Dealers' convention. I. H. Wilson, efficiency engineer for Atkins, Young and Allen company, had established his headquarters in Appleton. He had taken rooms with Sam Rowe in the Jones Lumber company office.

B. C. Wolter and Brothers that morning received another shipment of Ford autos from Detroit. The company had received 54 cars that spring.

Postmaster Gustave Koller was to attend the national postmaster's convention which was to be held at St. Paul the following summer.

A Verse for Today

By Anne Campbell

PRETENDING TO BE BRAVE

When you were small, I used to be afraid Of the swift lightning and the thunder's sound. But you must not be like that, so I made An effort, when my babies were around, Pretending to be very brave for you. And I discovered soon I had no need For pretence, but had healed myself indeed, And with each storm more valorous I grew.

Now that the clouds of war have overcast A piece of sky, and lightning flashes scare Me in my quiet house, I view the past, And find a little grain of comfort there. I am afraid, and draw near to my sons. Tonight, uncertain what may be their lot; Pretending to be brave, though I am not, And cringing from the fear of distant guns.

In 1927 the average running time per active spindle in the textile industry was 3.970 hours; in 1927 it was 3.209 hours.

May 8, 1939, was the 25th anniversary of the creation of the Farm Extension Service in the United States.

A Bystander In Washington

BY FRESTON GROVER

Washington—Every time President Roosevelt comes out with a new consolidation and reorganization plan teeth chatter from one end of Pennsylvania Avenue to the other, but when he ordered abolishment of the National Coal Commission in his second plan the titters out-did the teeth-chattering.

The coal commission has been a comedy of administration errors since it was invented four years ago. The Supreme Court abolished it once in the Carter coal case but it was recreated under a new act. And almost at once some of the fanciest stories of patronage rows ever heard in Washington began leaking out.

The strange part of it was that anybody who wanted to verify them could go to the side that was getting licked on patronage was always willing to tell of the injustices heaped upon them.

There was the matter of ink wells. Of the seven members of the commission, three for a long time were in the "minority camp." One day an employee of one of the minority commissioners strolled into the office of a majority commissioner. Resting upon the majority commissioner's desk was a combination fountain-pen and ink stand set that was a marvel to behold. It was a $12 model and really a splendid work of art and utility.

Minority Evens Things Up
But only the majority members had these splendid ink and pen sets. The minority members had just a bottle of ink. They went to the newspapers about it. Justice was done.

But that was not all. Tribal jealousies developed. One of the minority members found that his secretary was paid $2,300 a year instead of the $3,000 a year paid to the secretary of one of the majority members.

Instantly the minority member brought it up in commission meeting. We saw both jobholders and we couldn't tell the $2,300 secretary from the $3,000 secretary except that we thought the $2,300 one a trifle prettier. Anyway, the underprivileged secretaries got an increase in pay.

There were other patronage rows. Minority members protested that Senator Joe Guffey of Pennsylvania, who instigated the coal legislation, was getting a lion's cut of the patronage. Guffey valiantly denied it but Senator Rush Dew Holt of West Virginia, who wanted some of the patronage but was not getting it—he being a rambunctious fellow—printed the whole coal commission payroll in the Congressional Record.

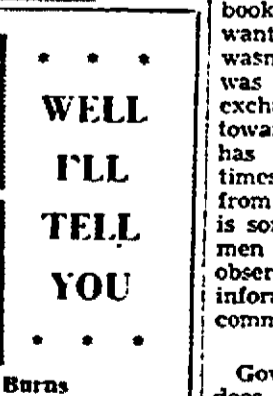

Lots Of Dittos

The home states of scores of employees were simply indicated by a ditto. One word, "Pennsylvania" would be printed near the top of the page and there a long list of "ditto" marks would follow. Now it was not surprising that a lot of the employees should come from Pennsylvania, as of all the states in the union Pennsylvania is the most coal-minded. But after all a coal commission is a national commission and Holt felt that he should have had a bird's-eye view of the patronage, anyway, more especially since his home state of West Virginia is right up close to Pennsylvania as a coal state.

The commission's job was to determine a schedule of base prices for coal so as to prevent certain mines' chiseling on prices against other mines. It was not surprising that it proved a well-nigh impossible job, although as we understand it now a price schedule has been fixed up.

Don't send for a copy to find out what your stove coal should cost. So complex is it that it requires a coal expert to make head or tail of it.

Of course the work of the commission isn't of itself abolished, just the commission. The work will be carried on under the Department of the Interior. That is Secretary Ickes. To him will go all the employees raked together under the New Deal's most hectic experiment.

WELL I'LL TELL YOU

There are five invitations layin' here on my table and everyone of 'em wants me to attend some brilliant intellectual gathering of some kind tonight, and here I sit at home, in my sock feet, enjoying myself just thinkin'!

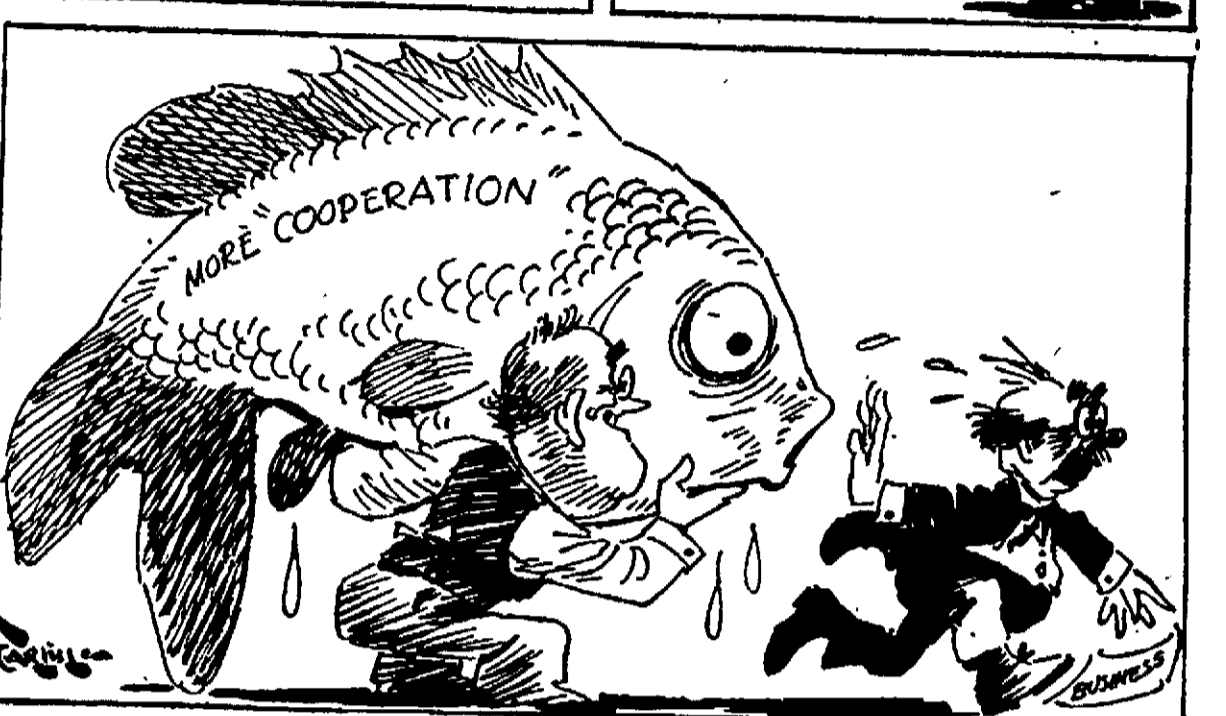

I've been thinkin', as I look back over things, that it's the unusual happenings in a man's life that makes 'em interesting. We take the usual things as a matter of course but when something unusual comes up we remember it. It stands out like a boulder table in a miles stable.

Last June, Hugh Parks, editor of the Press-Arkus, called the rewrite man into his office and said, "Here, Nobby, make a front page story outta this wedding."

Mr. Nobby said, "Listen, Mr. Parks, we don't never put a little old 'two-bit wedding' like this on the front page."

Hugh said, "Yeah, but this wedding is the first in ten years where the write-up won't say, 'The couple will reside with the bride's parents.'"

THERE'S A LIMIT TO THAT SORT OF THING

Under the Capital Dome

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison—If the whole inside story of the rather remarkable Heil budget is ever told, it seems likely that there will be an interesting passage on the University of Wisconsin appropriation.

The university's budget outcome is worthy of a second glance. While many state departments lost money in the Heil budget, others gained and some didn't lose a penny. But the university lost a cool million dollars, greater in proportion, and in total amount, than any other state department, service, or institution.

There are several theories about the reason for such a drastic swipe at the state's foremost school. Out at the university they feel that Governor Heil, the self-made successful man who enjoyed only the most meagre schooling in his youth, isn't as appreciative of the needs of the modern school system as other executives might be.

The bright ones of politics feel that Heil had to economize somewhere—in view of his many promises and speeches on the subject—and that the university was the safest place to do so, despite the fact that it has almost 100,000 alumni, a majority of them in the state.

A third school has it that the immediate lack of cordiality which was apparent in the relations of Dykstra and Heil is at the root of the matter. At their first meeting Heil and Dykstra had some cut words on the university's finances. Dykstra didn't seem very anxious to make a painstaking explanation of his books, while Heil didn't seem to want to listen very much. It wasn't exactly a quarrel, but there was a noticeable shortness in their exchanges. Whether Heil's feeling toward the university—and he has criticized it openly several times since that incident—dates from that time, or whether there is something else between the two men is not known. Many Capitol observers, including one of the best informed members of the finance committee, believe that there is.

Industrial Commission
Governor Heil has said that he does not contemplate reorganizing the state industrial commission, now consisting of three members, in favor of the one man director idea which he is introducing elsewhere in the capital commission set-up. Doubtless there is a good reason why the industrial commission is being passed up. There is plenty of work in safety, industrial sanitation, workmen's compensation, and unemployment compensation. For three commissioners. But the same argument may be applied with perfect justice to another three man commission which is to be replaced by a single director, the public service commission. In fact, the state supreme court in a recent opinion observed that the latter has more work than the industrial commission.

Highway Commission
Politicians have counted noses and concluded that the administration will not be able to carry its wish to reorganize the highway commission under a single director unless it is willing to make some important concessions. In the first places, some Republicans insist on maintaining the present status quo. Secondly, Democrats insist that if they vote for reorganization, it will be only on the specific condition that Democratic William E. O'Brien, chairman, be picked by Heil for the directorship. Even then passage of the reorganization bill is not certain, for there will certainly be some warm expelives from Republican sources if Heil picks a Democrat for the only job in that big department.

Personal Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author

FACTS AND FANCIES

It must have been Oliver Wendell Holmes who perpetrated the Hibernicism about the advisability of beginning the treatment of arteriosclerosis a hundred years before the patient is born. The idea was consistent enough with the views physicians held in Holmes's time. As Dr. Osler, born 40 years after Holmes, expressed it: "Longevity is a vascular question. A man is as old as his arteries. The onset of what may be called physiological arteriosclerosis depends, in the first place, upon the quality of arterial tissue (vital rubber) which the individual has inherited."

One of forty may present vessels as much degenerated as they should be at eighty. . . a tendency explained by the use of bad material for tubing in the make-up of the machine.

Today physicians and pathologists are less inclined to blame it on grandfather; newer knowledge of pathology and nutrition makes it difficult to escape the conclusion that your health and longevity depends rather more on the sort of life you lead than on the sort of life your ancestors lived. The modern view is presented in Little Lessons entitled "CVD" (about heart disease and arteriosclerosis) and "The Seven Keys to Vite" (about retaining youth).

The medical view of overweight or obesity has undergone a similar change in the past forty years. Formerly doctors talked of "fatty infiltration," which implied that the newly formed fat derived from food permeated the tissues and once infiltrated it stuck like glue.

Today we take little stock in that idea. In the overweight or fat or too stout individual there are thicker pads of fat in the places where some fat normally is stored. That is all.

Fatty degeneration has little or nothing to do with overweight or obesity. Fatty degeneration means actual conversion of some of the cell substance, protoplasm, into fat. Obviously fat droplets replacing muscle cell substance cannot function. That is why fatty degeneration, say of the heart muscle, is so serious. But fatty degeneration, as already mentioned, does not occur in ordinary overweight or obesity. It occurs rather in advanced heart disease, in persons who are not overweight or more likely persons who are underweight from prolonged illness.

Any embarrassment or inefficiency of the heart or circulation of a person who is somewhat overweight or obese is due simply to the fact that the person has to carry a handicap of so many pounds this or her excess weight all the time—enough in itself to tax a good strong enough—and moreover the circulation must supply not only the ordinary needs but also the needs of all that slacker flesh, which does no work but must be fed, nourished and kept warm by the blood.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Do you have any literature on ringworm and sensitive skin that seems irritated from bathing? (Mrs. C. E. B.)
Answer—Send stamped envelope bearing your address, and ask for monograph on Pruritis. That means itching of the skin without apparent cause. It will be only on the specific condition that Democratic William E. O'Brien, chairman, be picked by Heil for the directorship. Even then passage of the reorganization bill is not certain, for there will certainly be some warm expelives from Republican sources if Heil picks a Democrat for the only job in that big department.

ent cause. Many persons suffer from bath pruritis.

Drink Water
Group of us girls would like to settle argument. Is drinking more than one glass of water at a meal fattening? Does water at any time or in any amount have a fattening effect? (J. C.)

Answer—You'll never get fat on water. Every one should drink all the water he wants before meals—provided the water is not used to wash down unmastered morsels of food.

Postcard Received
Please let me know the name of a doctor who gives the injection treatment for hernia. (F. P.)

Answer—Receipt of yours and too many other postcards acknowledged. Correspondents who expect a reply by mail should enclose a stamped envelope bearing the address. Of Doc Brady furnishes the information or advice; you pay the freight.

Baby Business
Wife approximately four months pregnant. Altho I engaged doctor and she has visited him twice he has not as yet given her a complete examination, merely took record of blood pressure, weight, etc. Not matter of getting money's worth, but this being our first experience we want everything properly attended to. (R. R.)

Answer—Ask the doctor whether or when he will make a complete examination. Meanwhile, keep up your courage, young man. Really it is not so great an ordeal as a young man always fears before his first experience. Send ten cents coin and stamped envelope bearing your address, for copy or booklet "Preparing for Maternity." It gives advice about the expectant father's diet, etc., also a few hints for his wife's guidance during his waiting time.

Never Mind the Shadow
When there is a shadow on an X-ray plate does that mean there is infection, or might it be from recent pleurisy? (Mrs. M. S.)

Answer—If I were the patient I'd leave the interpretation of the X-ray evidence to my physician and the technician.

REBBER Book
We have a fine ten-pound baby six weeks old. We would like to have any literature you can send us on care of the baby. (Mrs. T. A. M.)
Answer—Send ten cents coin and stamped envelope bearing your address, for the Brady Better Bigger Baby Book (the six B. book.)

Belly Exercise
Have you a chart of exercises for reducing abdomen? (Mrs. E. F.)
Answer—No, madam. The abdomen is a cavity and cannot be reduced. Some of the movements of the "Last Brady Symphony" pictured and described in booklet of that name, will help reduce the belly if it is fat or tone the belly muscles if they are flabby. For copy send ten cents coin and stamped envelope bearing your address.

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address: Dr. William Brady, 265 El Camino, South, Beverly Hills, Calif. (Copyright, 1939.)

4,000 Outagamie Farmers Receive Federal Benefits

County Agent Explains Operation of Program To Rotary Club

Kaukauna—The operation of the federal farm program in Outagamie county was explained before the Rotary club Wednesday noon at Hotel Kaukauna by J. F. Magnus, county agricultural agent.

In 1938, Magnus said, Outagamie county farmers, numbering between 3,800 and 4,000, received $185,000 of federal funds. In addition the county received the benefit of wages spent by administrative employees. Each year's national agricultural program is subject to congressional action and appropriation.

The three objectives of the national agricultural program are to maintain and improve the soil, stabilize the production of food, and insure a fair income to the farmer, Magnus stated. The government starts the program by deciding upon the number of acres necessary throughout the entire country to feed the people, take care of the livestock, make a sufficient amount available for export and have a surplus left over for emergencies. When a national requirement is set, the acreage is divided among the states, and in turn divided among the counties.

Farmer-Controlled
The entire program is farmer-controlled and farmer-operated, Magnus explained. A 3-man committee, named by the farmers, works out the program in each county, making allotments to individual farms, based on past production records.

Conservation of soil resources is encouraged by making larger payments to farmers who do soil building work.

On file in the Appleton county office are aerial photographs of Outagamie county farms, from which acreages are calculated, Magnus said. The five basic commodities which the government is trying to control are cotton, wheat, corn, tobacco and rice, with special programs mapped for localities which specialize in other crops.

2-Hour Program to Feature District Holy Name Conclave

Kaukauna—The program for the district 2 Holy Name rally here Sunday will be concentrated into about two hours of the afternoon, according to the schedule released today by John Van De Lou, general chairman.

Assembly for the parade will take place at 2 o'clock on the streets that run into Wisconsin avenue. A ringing of the Holy Cross church bell will give the signal. A second ringing of the bell will start the parade at 2:30. Streets on which the various units are to march will be announced before Sunday. At present, maps of parade plan are in the hands of the marshals for all the units.

At LaFollette park, the main part of the program will start at 3 o'clock, headed by a speech by Roland J. Steinkle, Milwaukee Catholic attorney and special prosecutor in the recent Waukesha county vice probe.

The park program will open with the playing of "America" by the Kaukauna High school band. Mayor Lewis F. Nelson will speak a message of welcome to the 5,000 visitors. Steinkle will then give his address. After it the Rev. Martin H. Vosbeck, spiritual director of the diocesan Holy Name will give a short message to the gathering.

The solemn benediction services will then be held. Between the singing of the "O Salutaris" and "Tantum Ergo" benediction hymns, the men will recite publicly the pledge of the Holy Name society. The benediction, set for 4 o'clock, will conclude the day's ceremonies. The Very Rev. John Hummel, St. Mary's, Menasha, will be celebrant at the benediction.

Students Selected to Talk at Commencement

Kaukauna—Talks on high school subjects will be given at this year's commencement program. Kaukauna—The senior class of Outagamie Rural Normal school will stage a "skit night" on Friday evening, May 26, in the auditorium.

Support Urged for Holy Name Rally

Head of Advancement Association Asks General Cooperation

Kaukauna—A plea to Kaukauna residents to support the Holy Name rally here Sunday has been issued by George R. Greenwood, president of the Kaukauna Advancement association.

"The sacrifice nowadays is so small that everyone in Kaukauna should be present at this event," Greenwood said. "The merchants and citizens are urged to display their flags Sunday as a demonstration of their cooperation to help Kaukauna entertain the thousands of persons expected at the affair."

"The people of Kaukauna are always ready to assist in these events as was demonstrated by their attendance at the Valley Council Boy Scouts of America annual dinner and program when nearly 700 people were present, and again on May 9 when nearly 1,000 people attended the spring concert of our high school band."

"These demonstrations of Christian faith and civic spirit cannot go unmentioned, as it means progress to our community and a better place in which to live."

"Let each of us make it our duty to put our shoulder to the wheel and make every civic event a success for our neighbor and community."

Catholic Rites Held For Joseph Schamer

Kaukauna—Funeral services for Joseph Schamer, 45, 299 Diederich street, were held yesterday morning at the residence and at Holy Cross church, with the Rev. A. Garthaus in charge. Burial was in the parish cemetery. The American Legion, of which the deceased was a member, provided a firing squad and color guard.

Bearers were A. M. Schmalz, Dale Andrews, Stanley Lizon, George Schubring, Ralph Wittmann and Walter Lucht.

Push Cleanup Work on North Bank of Canal

Kaukauna—Work at cleaning up the north bank of the navigation canal above the Lave street bridge is almost finished, with the crew soon to begin working down to the first lock. It is hoped to have the grounds presentable for the Holy Name rally Sunday. A crew of 10 men are at work.

Regatta Committees Will Convene Tonight

Kaukauna—Veterans of Foreign Wars water regatta committees will meet at 7 o'clock tonight in the council room. Arrangements for the June 17 and 18 event will be discussed.

Girls Will Compete In Neenah Contests

Kaukauna—Six high school girls will go to Neenah May 27 to compete in an all-day athletic meet, according to Clifford H. Kemp, physical education instructor. Those who will go are Virginia Dan Dyke, Anna Mae Nytes, Alice Thompson, Lillian Vils, Jean Nytes and Lois Wieseler. The girls will compete in tennis, track, volleyball and softball.

Boys' and girls' tennis tournament will get under way soon at the high school, Kemp said. Virginia Van Dyke is in charge of the girls' tournament and Robert Nettekoven of the boys'.

Normal School to Hold Commencement June 3

Kaukauna—Graduation exercises at Outagamie Rural Normal school will be held June 3, according to Walter P. Hagman, principal. The annual alumni association meeting also will be held that night. The freshman class will serve dinner.

On May 29, 30 and 31 the graduates will take a trip to northern Michigan and Canada, with Hagman and other faculty members accompanying them.

Two Plays Planned By Young People of Black Creek Church

Black Creek—"The Holy Ghost, the Spirit of Truth," will be the sermon topic for the English service at 9:30 Sunday at Immanuel Lutheran church; Sunday school at 10:30. Two plays, "The New Position" and "The Germ Hunters," will be given Friday evening at the sub-auditorium of the church by the Young People's society.

Masses will be celebrated Sunday at 8 o'clock at St. Denis Catholic church, Shiocton, and at St. Lawrence Catholic church, Navarino. Men of the Holy Name societies

Valley Leaguers Will Seek Third Victory Sunday

Kaukauna Squad Holds Daily Drills for Tilt With Green Bay

Kaukauna—With an opportunity to take over sole possession of first place Sunday afternoon Manager Joey Vils' Valley leaguers are working out daily at the ball park in preparation for a game with the Green Bay nine at Kaukauna. Victors in the first two games, 7 to 4 over the Menasha Falcons in the opener and 6 to 4 over New London last Sunday, the Mellow Brews are tied with Kimberly for the lead, both with two wins and no losses. Kimberly entertains Appleton Sunday.

Manager Vils is showing the way in the hitting averages, having 5 out of 7 for a .714 percentage. Carl Schuler follows with 4 out of 6 for a .667 mark. Other Kaukauna averages are Ves Kappell, .120; Icky Van Drasek, .111; Ralph Wurdinger, .375; Gib Busse, .140; Joey Gertz, .140; Junior Martens, .120; Eddie Schuler, .250; Ray Diederich, .000, and Bob Greesen, .000.

Three Home Runs
The team has collected 20 hits, 10 in both of its games, in 67 times at bat, for a percentage of .298. Including in the hits are three home runs and seven doubles. The Kaws played errorless ball against New London after making two miscues against Menasha.

Eddie Schuler is the probable pitching choice for Sunday afternoon. Schuler beat Menasha, with Bob Greesen getting credit for the win against New London. The starting time of the game has been postponed to 3:30.

of the three parishes will take part in the parade Sunday to be held at Kaukauna which is the district rally and comprised of three counties, Calumet, Outagamie and Winnebago.

Sunday school will be held at 9:30 and the worship service at 10:30 Sunday at St. John Evangelical church. The Evangelical League will meet Friday evening.

Lois Brusewitz left Wednesday for Minneapolis, Minn., where she will play the piano accompaniment for Virgie Bunkelman's oboe solo tournament. Both are students of the Seymour high school.

Mrs. V. C. Kopley of Soldiers Grove returned home Tuesday following a several days visit at the home of her sister, Mrs. C. E. Roach. Mrs. R. D. Bishop and Mrs. A. F. Piehl, delegates, attended the ninth district conference at Coleman Tuesday of the American Legion auxiliary. Others who attended were Mrs. Louis Kaphingst, Mrs. John Litkov, Mrs. Hilbert Wiltuhn and Mrs. Henry Kuhn.

State Hospitals Moving Chronic Cases to Asylums

No New Building Will be Needed, Hygiene Director Says

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison—Construction of a new state mental hospital, recently recommended by the "mental hospital survey committee of New York" will not be necessary, Grant Haas, director of the state department of mental hygiene, said today in discussing the widely publicized study of the New York group.

The New York report recommended the erection of a new 1,000 bed state mental hospital in the western part of the state, "near Eau Claire" to supplement the present facilities at Mendota and Oshkosh.

As a result of the policy of the state department begun since the New York survey was made, Haas explained, the overload in the two present state hospitals has been reduced, and both are now functioning with populations below capacity, he announced.

Since last July the state hospitals have transferred about 500 chronically insane patients from the state institutions to the county asylums for the chronically insane, he reported.

The result has been that the empty beds in the county institutions—700 of them last summer—have been reduced to about 200, and the overcrowded conditions in the state institutions have been eliminated, he said.

"So there is no need for the new state mental hospital," he concluded.

Haas had previously explained that a survey began by the new department of mental hygiene when it started work last year showed that for various reasons patients who are declared to be chronically insane had never been transferred from the state hospitals as they were supposed to be.

The state institutions are for the curably insane, it was explained, while the county asylums are intended to house those patients who are chronic.

One result of the transfers, which are still being made, in that the therapy, medical and nursing services of the state hospitals are more nearly adequate with their reduced loads, while the county institutions are able to operate at lower unit costs because of their increased populations.

POWER, FAYE, JOLSON CO-STAR

Glorious entertainment awaits you at the Rio theater in "Rose of Washington Square," which opens a five-day engagement Friday. Tyrone Power and Alice Faye, the romantic stars of "Alexander's Ragtime Band," are co-starred with Al Jolson, singing again in his inimitable way his memory song hits of yesterday.

Among the hits sung by Alice Faye and Al Jolson are "My Man," "Toot Toot Tootsie, Goodbye," "I'm Sorry I Made You Cry," "Ja-Da," "The Vamp," "The Curse of an Aching Heart," "April Showers," "Mammy," "Rose of Washington Square," "I'm Always Chasing Rainbows," "Avalon," and climaxed these is a new smash hit, "I Never Knew Heaven Could Speak."

The added feature on the same program is "Almost A Gentleman" with James Ellison and "Ace," the wonder dog, heading the cast. It is a picture every lover of dogs will revel in.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 LBS. A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.
Frequent or scanty passages with aching and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic joint, leg pain, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisons from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Tickets for Wild Life Exhibit are Being Distributed

17,000 Free Admissions Going to School Children of County

More than 7,000 tickets for the second annual Wild Life Exhibit, scheduled at Pierce park May 25, 27 and 28, were distributed to rural school pupils in Outagamie county yesterday, according to F. M. Foor, exhibit chairman.

Foor said about 10,000 free tickets will be given away in the schools of county cities Friday and if any are left over, they will be distributed in Menasha and Menasha.

The exhibit this year will be bigger and better than ever and is expected to draw adults as well as children. Live fish, animals and birds from the state game farm at Poyette will be transferred to the pavilion at Pierce park for the 3-day period to give the youngsters a chance to see unusual specimens.

Lawrence Conner, Freedom, who keeps rats, mice, rabbits and squirrels will bring his charges to the exhibit and the Outagamie county park commission will furnish horned owl, marsh hawks, a fish hawk, a porcupine, two badgers, snakes and turtles.

Claude Parmelee, a gun expert, will display his marksmanship at the park and will give demonstrations of fly and bait casting for those interested in fishing. Movies of big game hunting and pictures taken in Wisconsin also will be shown in the evenings.

Assey, I thought there were four of those figures."

"There are."

"Only three that I can see," Kay said.

"One's probably fallen down again. One of the gents has a sort of drowsy. Lane tried to fix it."

"Cause he claimed it was unnerve to watch it fall. I guess too many tourists pawed it over."

"There are so only three," Kay said, "and there's none on the lawn. Now that's funny—I wonder if—let me look out of that window. No, I can't see any on the ground here. Where do you suppose—"

"Outside, a car engine raced. 'Tourists!' Assey sprang for the door. 'I bet those birds pinched one—'

Kay raced along after him. "There goes the car—Assey! Oh, the pigs! Can't we do something—"

Assey's Colt barked. "Scare 'em, maybe—Kay, let's give that bunch a chase. Come on. My car's yonder."

As Kay fell breathlessly into the roadster's seat, Assey pulled at her arm.

"Get out—quick—"

"Why?"

"Get out!"

"What for?"

"Is your car here? Where? Hustle! Come on, show me. Quick!"

"But it's what's the matter with yours?"

"Tires slashed," Assey said as they ran down the road. "Those weren't any tourist snatchers—that's our man!"

Hopkins Sees Gain In Lumber Demand

Industry Is Well in Advance of Last Year's First Quarter

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau Washington — Secretary of Commerce Harry L. Hopkins said today that evidence of business improvement within the lumber industry is seen as a result of increased small home building, greater production by furniture manufacturers and related groups, and gains in American exports of lumber and lumber products.

Lumber consumption during the first three months of the year was estimated at 5.5 billion feet, well in advance of last year's figures for the corresponding period. Lumber stocks at the mills at the end of the first quarter amounted to eight billion feet at compared with 8.4 billion feet at the beginning of this year. The Lumber Survey committee reports that these stocks are not excessive.

Production of furniture increased from 25 to 30 per cent over the 1938 figures, with a more general improvement expected later this spring.

Lumber production during the three months period was 16 per cent higher than for the same period last year, but 20 per cent below the 1937 mark.

First quarter 1939 residential contracts, measured in floor space, were the largest in ten years, with privately financed construction representing about one half of the total.

According to the report, railroad equipment orders are anticipated to be higher than last year, while other than for home building, furniture and related groups the general demand for lumber products is irregular.

American exports of logs for the first quarter of 1939 increased 63 per cent over 1938 figures, while imports of forest products measured by dollar values were 21 times the exports during the same period. Exports of softwood lumber totaled 165,011,000 feet for the first quarter, a loss of 1 per cent from 1938. Hardwood lumber exports, including flooring, gained 10 per cent over the first quarter of 1938.

Town and Gown Club Concludes Frontier Study

MRS. F. W. CLIPPINGER spoke on "Tall Tales and Ballads of the Frontier" at Town and Gown club's final meeting of the season Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. H. Griffiths, 34 N. Bellair court. Mrs. Clippinger pointed out that Furians, cavaliers, Dutchmen, Negroes, Englishmen, French Canadians and even southerners of aristocratic English stock thronged together on the basis of equality on the frontier—a band of strong, bold men ready to face hardships and danger. It is to this picturesque group, she said, that America is indebted for the legends and ballads of its frontier. The club's study topic this season was "The Romance of the Frontier."

Appleton Lions club auxiliary had its monthly meeting Wednesday afternoon at Green Bay, beginning with luncheon at the Beaumont hotel and continuing with a visit to the grounds of the historic Tank cottage and to the reformatory. Twenty-three women were in the group. Except for a picnic which will be held some time during the summer, yesterday's meeting was the last until next fall.

"My Six Weeks Along the Gulf Coast" is the title of a talk to be given by Mrs. Emily Griffin at the meeting of Appleton Girls club at 7:30 Friday night at Appleton Woman's club. Hostesses will be Miss Edith Jennerhahn and Miss Jennie Van Wyk.

The annual business meeting of the Campus club will take place at 3:30 Tuesday afternoon, May 23, at the home of Mrs. Willis M. Van Horn, 129 N. Green Bay street. The club will give its annual tea for Lawrence college seniors tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. Thomas N. Barrows, 5 Union street.

Mrs. Edwin Klime, E. Pacific street, was hostess to Lady Eagles Wednesday afternoon at her home. Prizes at schafskopf were won by Mrs. Otto Tilly, Mrs. E. Lehman and Mrs. William Klahorst. Next Wednesday the club's annual banquet will take place at Hearsthouse tea room.

Rebekah Lodge Holds Past Grand's Night About 80 persons attended the Past Noble Grand's night program given Wednesday night at Odd Fellows hall by Deborah Rebekah lodge. Thirty past noble grands were present and letters were read from four who are out of the state. The program included a talk by Mrs. D. S. Runnels, past state president, piano selections by Mrs. Clarence Richter, a vocal solo by Miss Edna Gauslin and a short talk on the lodges of Illinois by Mrs. George Bruss. Cards were played after the program, prizes going to Miss Ruth Dawes at bridge and Mrs. Mary Rigles at schafskopf.

Next Thursday members of the local lodge will attend a Rebekah meeting at Manitowish. A mother and daughter banquet is planned for June 21 at Odd Fellows hall.

GIRLS TO DISPLAY DRESSES IN HIGH SCHOOL STYLE SHOW The girls in the picture are shown wearing some of the dresses that will be shown during "The Parade of Fashions" which will be presented at 3:30 Friday afternoon at Appleton High school by the sewing classes. One hundred of the 420 garments made this year will be modeled. Several of the girls will show the contrast of the years with dresses of older fashions. The program will be directed by Miss Mildred Nickel and Miss Catherine Spence and will be open to the public.

High School Band Shows Its Ability in Formal Concert

APPLETON High school's band demonstrated the meaning of style and perfection of technique Wednesday night when it gave its first formal concert of the year in the new high school auditorium. E. C. Moore directed.

The program opened with the impressive overture to "Oberon" by Weber, one of the three perfect overtures in symphonic music, according to critics. The melodic pianissimo of the reeds and the light staccato of the horns was contrasted with a sudden fortissimo crash and an allegro movement which displayed the ability of the clarinet section.

Robert Sager, one of the high school's ace cornet players, earned applause with his solo, "Willow Echoes" by Simon. The selection was followed by a light and delicate serenade, Curzon's "Simoretta."

Erick Madisens to Hear Oslo Chorus

The band's amazing flexibility, was demonstrated when the group played "Bravado" by Curzon. The number opened with a brilliant introduction in the Spanish style, which was especially interesting for the audience. Hibberts "Marie of Love" was a waltz, beautifully played, and "Concertina" brought the first half of the concert to a close. Although the selection usually is a cornet solo, it was presented last night as a unison solo by the band's top clarinetists, Caroline Stroetz, Helen Werner, Gloria Hauser, Ray Thomas, Roman Schmidt, Helen Kraemer and Fred Treise, Jr.

The second half of the program was opened with the well-known and well-loved "Unfinished Symphony" by Schubert. The staccato accompaniment of the clarinets to the solo of the oboes was particularly effective.

The symphony was followed by two delicate selections, "Entr'acte et Valse" by Delibes and "Ein Aumbullat" by Wagner. The last differs greatly from most of Wagner's work in its lightness of melody and tone.

Popular Number Carmichael's ever-popular "Star Dust" was presented in contrast to most of the symphonic numbers which the band played. The band demonstrated how beautifully a large group can handle a modern composition. An appropriate climax to the evening's performance.

Mr. and Mrs. Erick Madisen and their son, 1623 N. Durkee street, will be in Madison tonight to hear a concert by the Royal University chorus of Oslo, Norway, of which Mr. Madisen's cousin, Erik O. Boye, is a member. Mr. Boye will return to Appleton with the Madisens for a brief visit and then rejoin the chorus for the remainder of its tour. The chorus came to America with Prince Olaf and his wife and sang at the opening of the Norwegian building at the New York World's Fair.

Mrs. James McGinnis, 621 W. Third street, will leave Friday for Chicago where she will witness a pageant at Longwood academy which is being directed by Mrs. James Hayes, the former Rose Elfen McNevin who taught in Appleton High school, and another which Mrs. McGinnis' daughter, Sister Mary Regina, superior, will present for St. Thomas Apostolic church. The pageants will be given Friday and Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Boughton, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Rosholt, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stout and Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Davis, Jr., are among the Appleton people who will attend the state convention of the Junior chamber of commerce and its auxiliary at Wausau this weekend. Mrs. Davis is a state director of the auxiliary.

A cottage cheese ring makes a delicious and cool-looking mold for fruit or vegetable salad. Stiffen well seasoned cottage cheese with a little gelatin or press the cheese into a buttered mold and let stand in a cold place.

HE CAN EAT NOW

Andrew Daly, 13, son of a railroad clerk at Omaha, is shown as he ate a meal in a hospital where juvenile authorities took him after doctors said the 49-pound lad virtually was starving. His father said the boy had been living on milk, coffee, chocolate bars and ice cream for approximately ten years because constipation at the entrance of the stomach prevented him from eating solid foods.

Miss Anita Huebner Is Guest of Honor At Series of Parties

Miss Anita Huebner, whose engagement to Gerald Schomisch was announced this week, was honored at parties Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. Her wedding will take place July 8.

Mrs. Thomas Arbogast, 1027 W. Spencer street, entertained at a dinner and surprise kitchen show for Miss Huebner Monday night at her home. Eight persons, all members of the immediate family, were present. Mrs. Arbogast presented the bride-to-be with gifts for her kitchen. Tuesday evening Miss Eileen Loesslad was hostess to 12 guests at bridge at her apartment at 123 E. Lawrence street. Prizes were won by Miss Esther Schomisch, Mrs. Walter Hannebaum and Miss Lorraine Dettman. The group presented Miss Huebner with a gift.

Jefferson school teachers entertained Miss Huebner at a dinner last night at Hearstone tea room followed by Chinese checkers. Winners were the Misses Dorothy Sonntag, Genevieve Murphy and Katherine Arnold. Eleven persons attended and presented the guest of honor with a gift. Miss Huebner teaches at Jefferson school.

Mrs. Joe Gossens, Kimberly, entertained at a coin shower Tuesday evening in honor of her sister, Miss Martha A. Van Lieshout, who will be married May 29 to Frederick Block, Menasha. Brillion Lions Rounding Out Plans for Tenth Anniversary Brillion—May 24 will mark the tenth anniversary of Lionism in Brillion. An anniversary party has been planned by the club at Horn park in Brillion. The event is to begin with a dinner followed by a program and entertainment and dancing. Headlined on the program for the evening will be Karl M. Sorrick, Jackson, Mich., second vice president of Lions International. Also on the program will be Frank V. Birch of Milwaukee, immediate past president of Lions International. It was ten years ago that Mr. Birch, as district governor of Wisconsin, presented the Brillion Lions club with its charter.

In the original club organized at Brillion in 1929 there were 20 charter members. At present the club has an active membership of 40. Among its members are O. C. Wordell, for four years state secretary-treasurer, and Dr. W. L. Boyden, district governor of Wisconsin in 1937 and 1938.

One of the big events of the anniversary will be the presentation to nine members of charter chevrons by Past-President Frank Birch. Members to be honored are Dr. W. L. Boyden, Robert Heinga, Hilmer Johnson, Dr. E. H. Kioehn, Hugo Muehlbach, Edgar Mueller, Hugo Neumeyer, G. A. Schneider and O. C. Wordell. The latter is also to be awarded a ten-year perfect attendance pin.

Word has already been received that many members of the Manitowish, Two Rivers, Menasha, Neeshaw, Kaukauna, Valders, New Holstein, Appleton, and Fond du Lac clubs are planning to attend the anniversary party.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Winkler spent the weekend with relatives at Kenosha and Chicago.

Mrs. N. C. Fiedler was hostess to the members of her bridge club at her home on Tuesday evening. High honors were received by Mrs. Harold Jensen and Mrs. Arthur Kielgas and Mrs. Irvin Winkler received the floater.

Mrs. William Ross was hostess to the members of her bistro club at her home on Tuesday evening. Those present were the Mesdames Walter Fuhrman, Anna Ziegler, Henry Isack, Charles Nass, Fred Eickert, William Mack, Louis Boettcher and Helen Jooss. The awards were received by the Mesdames Anna Ziegler, Henry Isack and Fred Eickert.

Members of the Birthday Bridge club motored to the home of Mrs. Russell Peace at Valders on Saturday afternoon. Those in the party were the Mesdames Edwin Juno, S. T. Barnard, August Schaefer, William Abel, Tillie Koch, Rudolph Kruschinske, Charles Zutz, Elmer Schmelzer and R. W. Schulze and the Mesdames Anna Barnard and Mildred McComb.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Application for marriage licenses has been made at the office of John E. Hantschel, Outagamie county clerk, by Phil Dixon, Appleton, and Helen Wenzel, Appleton; Joseph N. Daul, route 2, Kaukauna, and Alice Ambrosius, route 2, West DePere; Ralph Lex, Appleton, and Evelyn Hein, Appleton; Rudolph Skalmusky, Kaukauna, and Philomena Giordana, Kaukauna.

ham, president of the Harlan Operators association, who said: "The operators are perfectly willing to stand on the wages and hours clauses of the old contract and to sit down and discuss the union clause."

Reach Agreement

Harlan's mine owners saw the last of five southern Appalachian associations, which quiet the New York conference with them, reached agreement with the John L. Lewis U.M.W., yesterday when Hazard, southern Appalachian and Virginia operators signed up.

The Kanawha in West Virginia was the first to fall into line. Then came the Big Sandy-Elkhorn group. The re-openings affected 34,000 men.

There was a different situation at Gary, W. Va., where four mines of a United States Steel corporation subsidiary—the United States coal and coke company—resumed operations without a U.M.W. contract and in defiance of union warnings of picketing. P. J. McFarland, general superintendent at Gary, said more than 1,000 miners returned to work.

The most tense situation in the Harlan field since the troops arrived Sunday developed late yesterday at the fork of highways near Verda, a mining camp seven miles from Harlan.

At that point a crowd, estimated by Lieutenant Fred Kerr of the national guard at 2,000, including a number of women, "threatened" to take the guns away from soldiers fortified with four machine guns.

Cheese sauce for cherry fritters—it may sound odd but it tastes great. Good idea to use for dessert for spring luncheon when the first course has been a salad. With plenty of hot coffee this dessert will go over big.

Aldermen Order Officers to Pay Old Salary Scale

cused except at an informal meeting last week when the council agreed to make the change in Rule 13.

A committee to arrange for the dedication of the new city hall was authorized and will be appointed by the mayor. The building is expected to be ready sometime in July.

A request for water service from Belle Heights was referred to the water committee for investigation.

Hire Two Men

Aldermen hired two men, now on relief, to take care of the Spencer street athletic field property during the summer months. The men were placed under the direction of the recreational committee and the city engineer.

A request of the Junior Chamber of Commerce for $1,000 to finance its Fourth of July fireworks display was deferred to the next meeting.

Aldermen voted to pay Ramond LeVe, Appleton architect, $1,364.60, his fee for drawing the plans for a proposed new police station. The station was to be built on the Lincoln school property but the remodeling of the school ran to too much money and the proposal was dropped.

The council authorized the city engineer to make a preliminary survey for a proposed high level bridge over the Fox river. The engineer reported he is working on proposed repairs for Pacific street bridge and on the proposed opening of N. Division street.

Other points in the mayor's annual recommendations to the council were referred to the various committees for consideration.

Grant Licenses

Licenses were granted to the following: sidewalk construction, Herman Lillge and Walter Maleika; operators, Lloyd K. Gorges, route 1, Menasha; Henry Guillaume, 916 W. Wisconsin avenue, and Harry Parent, 303 N. Appleton street; tavern, Louis Grathen and Lawrence Radloff, 343 W. College avenue. Operators licenses were denied Lawrence Radloff, 108 W. Wisconsin avenue, and C. M. Streetz, 325 W. Washington street.

Marion Forster, 820 W. Prospect avenue, and Lloyd Whydolski, 518 E. South River street, were hired by aldermen as attendants and life guards at the city's municipal swimming pool this summer. Miss Forster will receive $50 per month and Whydolski will receive $60. The pool is scheduled to open June 3 and the council ordered the plumbing inspector and street commissioner to check it for repairs. Girls will have the pool on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays while the boys will use the pool on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, the council decided.

The council approved a plans commission report recommending that the city grant permits to A. J.

Thems to remodel a house at 223 Memorial drive into three apartments and to Willard J. Stipp to rebuild a house at 718 W. Harris street into three apartments. Public hearings will be arranged on both requests.

Approve Plans

Aldermen approved the city engineer's plans for sewers on Harrison street from Parkway boulevard to the city limits; on Nicholas street from Drew street to Union street; and on Walden street from Dewey street to Tracy street.

A charge of $3.25 per hour was set up for the use of the city's power grader by the school board. The machine is being used to grade the new senior high school property.

An ordinance providing for a 2-hour parking limit on Soldiers square was referred to the ordinance committee and ordered published.

A proposal of the Appleton water commission to replace the old 2-inch water mains on Oneida street with a 12-inch feeder main was referred to the water committee for investigation. The work is expected to cost about $13,000.

California Tours are Offered by Railroad

A series of tours to California has been announced by the department of tours of the Chicago and North Western Union Pacific railways. F. A. Summelhack, North Western agent in Appleton, reported today.

The tours make it possible to travel to California and the Golden Gate exposition for periods of 12, 13, 14, and 20 days. The tours will leave Chicago each Saturday evening from June 17 to Sept. 2 inclusive.

The United States has more than 1,200 cotton mills scattered over 30 states from Maine to Texas.

America's Wealthy Set Has An Ever-Changing Personnel

BY WESTBROOK FOGLE

New York—Everywhere I roam in the United States there is evidence in the dissipation of old homes that, if wealth does tend to concentrate in the possession of a small group of people, then that group itself is like a golf club in that the membership is always changing. The old ones die off or go broke and quietly vanish, and the heirs of those who did not go broke, on coming into the money, take second or third cut after the taxes have been collected and, dividing it among them, find that individually they are unable to maintain the old mansions of the best families.

Some of the heirs are fools who lose their money in silly investments, a good many are drunkards and given to marrying frequently and on slight provocation—an expensive way of doing, what with legal expenses, alienation settlements and all—and some are just average persons who stretch out their money until they die, when it is taxed again, and that remainder, in turn, is divided among several in diminishing portions.

If an heir does not possess the knack of making money to add to his inheritance, then the process is like that of the chucklehead skinner who skims until there is nothing left to raise a skim. Fortunes lack stamina, and the new-rich are always rising.

All American cities—and a hundred years will cover the age of many of them—have overwhelmed and obliterated in their physical growth whole rows of old mansions where once abode the rich men of an earlier day, and many buildings now masked and jazzed up with hotel fronts or store fronts were palaces not so long ago in which the banker or the street car magnate lived on rich meats and heavy gravies.

Fine Old Homes of Former Days Have Disappeared

Anyone who is rising 40 years, on revisiting a city after an absence of 20 years or 25, will notice the total disappearance of blocks which in his youth gave him an impression of impregnable riches and permanence and the transformation of others into tire stores, kitchenette apartments and palmists' studios.

It is true, of course, that some of the rich and well-to-do have moved into the suburbs to occupy imitation English or God-awful Spanish dwellings with plate glass shower stalls but very little room for books, on grounds from which the milkman of thirty years ago retreated at a decent profit on his average, but a majority of those families are late come into money and many of them are house poor even so.

Come 1960, when the elders are thinned out, the young ones in prep or college today will have taken their grab at the leavings of their estates, married and moved away, and the wealth of the suburb, if wealth it be, will be concentrated no more.

Fifth Avenue No Longer The Lane of The Rich

In New York in 20 years, Fifth ave., which once meant society and riches, has been transformed into a street of shops and business below the park, and to the north of 59th st. has become a mixture of old homes, many of them apparently worked only by skeleton crews like laid-up ships, and co-operative apartment houses whose owner in many cases would be delighted to move out and abandon their equity if their equity would do as much for them.

The market-rich of the era of wonderful nonsense who bought apartments then, but were mangled in the crash, are rich no longer, and the heirs to a town house 10 floors

Central Wisconsin conference track and field teams gathered at Whiting field of Lawrence college yesterday afternoon for their annual meet and saw Wausau repeat as champion with Weyauwega in second place. Several of the lads who figured in the scoring are shown above. The left is Gilman Hertz, Weyauwega, who was the outstanding individual competitor. He set a record in the high hurdles when he was clocked in 18 seconds, tied the high jump record at 5 feet, 6 inches, and won the broad jump with 20 feet, 1 inch. And he's only a junior.

White Sox Humble Boston Sox With Rally in Tenth

New York Yankees Down Browns for Seventh Straight Victory

BOSTON.—(AP)—Big Jack Wilson weakened in the tenth inning yesterday and the Chicago White Sox touched him for four hits that led to a 6 to 3 victory over the Boston Red Sox in the second game of the series.

Until the tenth, Wilson had given up only three hits — two of them homers by Bejma and Walker — but Owen, Tresh, Pinch Hitter Radcliff and Bejma singled in succession in the overtime inning and two runs came across before Joe Heying came in as relief pitcher. Kuehl's long sacrifice fly drove in the third run of the inning.

The Red Sox wrangled only four hits off Bill Dietrich in the nine innings he worked before he was relieved for a pinch hitter. One of the hits, however, was Joe Cronin's second homer of the year in the fourth inning, and since Doc Cramer and Joe Ossile were aboard as the result of a double and walk, respectively, it resulted in all of Boston's runs. Pinch Hitter Leo Nonnenkamp made the other Sox hit after two were out in the tenth, off Reliever Clint Brown, who was appearing in his tenth rescue attempt of the young season.

YANKS WIN NO. 7

New York — (AP)—The world champion Yankees stretched their string of victories to seven yesterday with a 4 to 3 conquest of the St. Louis Browns on Monte Pearson's four hit hurling.

It was the fourth win for the New York curve ball specialist, who has yet to be defeated. Although he was wild and frequently in trouble because of the six passes he issued, Pearson tightened on the pinchers and subdued all the visitors except Mel Almada and Myril Hoag.

The pair put together two doubles for a run in the first inning and singled and doubled behind a walk to Vernon Kennedy for two more runs and the remainder of St. Louis' hits in the second.

Kennedy, making his first start since being traded from Detroit to the Browns last Saturday, pitched bravely, nine hit game which ultimately was lost on an error by shortstop Johnny Bernardino in the fifth frame. It was Kennedy's third setback without a victory.

Tommy Henrich, who had homered with none on in the first, scored the deciding run after drawing a base on balls in the fifth. Going to second on another walk, and racing home when Charley Keller's roller went through Bernardino.

SENATORS WIN, 4-1

Washington.—(AP)—Rookie Walter Masterson, 18 year old righthander with two innings of previous professional baseball experience, snapped the Washington Senators' losing streak at three games yesterday by holding the Detroit Tigers to six hits, all singles, for a 4 to 1 victory.

Three Detroit errors and singles by Jimmy Wadell and Cecil Travis accounted for all of Washington's runs in the first inning.

Buck Newsom, making his first start for the Tigers after being obtained in a trade with St. Louis, went the route for Detroit.

Pittsburgh.—John "Blood" McNally, head coach of the Pittsburgh Pirates National Football League team, has returned here from a vacation in his Richmond, Wis., home and started lining up plans for the 1939 season. The Pirates, who will train in Two Rivers, Wis., have made tentative plans to engage the Detroit Lions in a pre-season exhibition game in Minneapolis Sept. 5, McNally announces. If arrangements for this game are completed, it will be the second pre-season exhibition with a league team for the Pirates. They have already closed for an exhibition game with the Packers in Green Bay.

Valley League Gossip

B OB COTTON, Appleton's first baseman, is heading toward the batting crown with a pair of hits against Little Chute. One was a three bagger.

Kaukauna used a new mound artist by the name of Greenz Sunday, who looked good for eight innings holding the New London Merchants scoreless. Then he was chased by a pair of homers with Eddie Schuler coming to his rescue. Schuler struck out Orin Krohn in the ninth with two men on the paths for the final out.

Anton "Casey" Jansen enjoyed his first game as arbirer in the Valley league. Working the Neenah-Oshkosh game, he said an Oshkosh player came up and asked him to forget his outburst at a called strike.

Artie Hofkins, the Papermakers' regular twirler, stepped in as relief man against Green Bay with his mates trailing 4 to 0. He held the Bays scoreless the rest of the way while Thein and company went on a hitting spree to chase over seven runs and cop.

Little Chute had a bad day at Appleton with three infield miscues paving the way for a half dozen runs in the second inning. Wildenberg fanned 10 opponents.

Sabot, New London twirler, had a great day at the plate when he collected a homer, two doubles and a single. He is batting 1.000 per cent with five for five. He also is a good looking hurler.

The Kaukauna-Green Bay game at the Kaw park will start at 3:30 Sunday afternoon following the Holy Name parade.

Christofferson of Neenah collected four bingles in as many times at bat against Oshkosh. A teammate, Ken Handler, got four for five. Klobier, the Sawdust city twirler, was chased to the showers with Cully Zinh, former Kimberly fly-hawk, finishing the game. Twenty-nine hits were registered with five pitchers parading to the mound.

Aberdeen, S. D.—Harry Hohler of Aberdeen is telling the folks around here about the 300-mile drive which he and Mrs. Hohler recently took to Minneapolis. "It was a nice drive," says Mr. Hohler. As a matter of fact, the Aberdeen couple headed for Minneapolis to watch their son, Johnny, run the half-mile event for Marquette university in a track dual with Minnesota. Johnny won, but his family arrived too late to sit in on the proceedings.

Coe College Is Favored to Win Midwest Honors

Record of Sam Leete, Lawrence, in Hurdles, May Be Broken

EDGAR RAPIDS, Ia. — Coe college, the host team, will be the favorite here Saturday in the eighteenth annual Midwest conference track meet.

Based on their performance at the Beloit relays two weeks ago, where they scored heavily in team events, the Kohawks appear to have a slight margin of superiority over Lawrence, Beloit, Carleton, and Knox. Because relay races are not so important a factor, however, the meet should be close.

Only one meet record appears likely to tumble—Sam Leete's mark of 1:13 in the 120-yard high hurdles. Charley Ralston, Coe's all-around star, has been timed in 1:51 this spring. Joe Graf of Lawrence, one of four defending champions to return, may threaten the nine-year old 100-yard dash mark of 1:09.6, but will have to cut one-tenth of a second off his best previous effort, which is 1:09.7. Elmer Wood, Carleton's two-mile champion, Jim Vipond, Monmouth pole vaulter, and Osborn of Lawrence in the javelin will be back to defend their titles. Captain Roy McCauley of Cornell should give Wood competition in the distance events.

Another good race may develop between Carleton's Norm Sterrie and Coe's Harley Moore in the quarter-mile run.

Ralston, the favorite in both hurdles events, is also a prospective winner in the high jump and broad jump. Jack Rue, Beloit; Jack Crawford, Lawrence; and Phil Casper, Cornell, in the high jump, and Al Christiansen, Knox, in the broad jump, should furnish stiff competition.

In the weight events, Lyle Reishus, Carleton; Eldon Leins, Coe; and Dan Hamacheck, Beloit, look like the best bets.

The meet starts at 1:30 Saturday with competition in the pole vault, shot put, high jump, and javelin. Dr. George W. Bryant of Coe, secretary of the Midwest conference, will be starter and referee.

U. W. Boxing Coach Weds at St. Paul

Madison.—(AP)—Coach Johnny Walsh, of the University of Wisconsin boxing team, and Miss Audrey Beatty, of Denver, Col., former Wisconsin co-ed, were married at St. Paul's university chapel by the Rev. Alvin Kutchera here yesterday.

When Miss Beatty stepped off a train from California shortly after noon the couple went secretly to a hotel where Mrs. Margaret C. Weaver, deputy county clerk, issued a marriage license. Judge Roy H. Proctor gave them a special permit, eliminating the requirement for a five day wait before the ceremony.

Their honeymoon plans were not announced.

America OUT-OF-DOORS

LAKE TROUT ANGLING IS LIKE DEEP SEA

By Harold Hollis

Many of the thrills of deep sea fishing may be had going after lake trout in the waters around the Apostle Islands in Lake Superior just off the northern end of Wisconsin. There are plenty of boating facilities and equipment to be had at Bayfield and other resort points along the coast, and the setting is actually not very different from that of deep sea fishing on the Atlantic.

The tackle used in this form of fishing is also similar to that used in deep sea work for the big lakere are worthy opponents and need a heavy tackle to offset their battling. The waters are deep, the trout are large, the boats used are sizable, and the shore line setting is wild. The region is easily reached from most middle western centers.

The most popular method of going after lake trout is known as "chugging" and is a form of trolling. In this style of angling the fisherman uses a short stiff rod and a copper line or a heavy test silk or linen line. The majority use large spoons or spinners for lures and weigh these down so that they just move above the lake bottom.

Use A Triangle

A convenient accessory for a lake trout fisherman is a triangle which is fastened to the end of the line. The top point of the triangle is the direct connection with the reel. The lower corner is connected with a sinker weighing half a pound more or less, depending upon the depth of the water to be fished. From the third point of the triangle is attached the spoon or other lure.

The fishing boats move along slowly, and the fisherman let their lines until the weights at the bottoms of the triangles touch the bottom. These weights are about eighteen inches below the triangle and, as the boat moves along for the trolling, bump along the lake bottom. This means that the lure is traveling about a foot off the bottom where the big trout are waiting for food victims.

When the trout hit, it is a memorable experience, and first-timers often think they have hooked a big rock or the bottom of the lake in person. The lake trout, weight for size, put up about the most stubborn fight in the game fish world. It may not be as spectacular as some, but it is a desperate battle with no quarter given. When a twenty pounder or larger is the fighter at the business end of the tackle, the angler knows he is up against a master.

Frankhouse Warned Against Using 'Spitter'

New York.—(AP)—Ford Frick, National league president, today warned Fred Frankhouse, right-hander for the Boston Bees, that he would be suspended for ten days if he again "tamper" with a ball he is pitching.

Umpire Beans Reardon found Frankhouse trying to use a "spitter," an outlawed delivery in organized ball, in a game at Cincinnati yesterday. He notified the league prexy of the violation.

Yankees Will Play Two Night Ball Games

New York.—(AP)—The New York Yankees have succumbed to night baseball.

President Ed Barrow announced the world champions would play at least two games under lights this year.

The first will be against the Athletics in Philadelphia on June 26 and the other against Cleveland there August 20.

The night games make the following changes in schedule necessary:

The Yankee-Athletic game of June 27 has been postponed and will be played as part of a double-header on Aug. 13.

The Yankee-Cleveland game of Aug. 31 has been postponed and will be played as part of a double-header on July 16.

Salvation Army Team Ready for First Game

LeRoy Jury has been named manager of the Salvation Army team in the Church league with Clarence Kositzke as assistant manager and Lawrence Michler captain.

The Army team held a practice session last evening and tonight will meet the B'nai-B'rith team at Roosevelt field.

HOLE-IN-ONE DEPT

Albion, Neb.—(AP)—Frank Sloan, Jr., 16-year-old member of the Albion high school golf team, made a hole-in-one on a golf course here, but it wasn't a new experience for him. He scored his first ace on the same course three years ago.

ball, in a game at Cincinnati yesterday. He notified the league prexy of the violation.

Under the league rules, a pitcher is punished by suspension if he spits the violation. Frick apparently took cognizance of talk that certain hurlers have been trying to slip the "spitter" in occasionally and made public a telegram to the Bees' pitcher as a warning to all.

N. E. W. Kennel Club Makes Plans For Puppy Match

Show at Kimberly Stables Open to Dogs From 4 To 12 Months of Age

Neenah — Plans for the puppy match to be sponsored by the Northeastern Wisconsin Kennel club at the Jack Kimberly stables, Lime Kiln Point, Sunday, June 25, were completed at a club meeting last night in the community rooms of the Neenah National Manufacturers bank building.

The show will be open to dogs from 4 to 12 months of age and the entry fee will be 50 cents a dog. Harry Osbourne, Chicago, will judge the show, and M. F. Coulard, Milwaukee, show superintendent, will be the chief steward.

The dog fanciers decided that special entries for dogs on exhibition only will be received for mature dogs and puppies under four months. Entry blanks for both the show and the exhibition may be secured from Otis Hayes, club secretary, or other members of the club.

Show Veterinarian

Judging of the puppies will start at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, but entries will be taken until noon. Dr. T. L. Knapstein, Greenville, will be the show veterinarian.

The feature of the show will be a performance by William Necker's Doberman pinscher troupe. Necker also will give a demonstration of the obedience class work which will be a feature of the club's fall show at Fond du Lac.

Because the American Kennel club doesn't sanction group or best in show judging for puppies matches, only best in breed will be judged.

Name Committees

An obedience class committee was appointed last night with Dr. L. H. Dillon, Appleton, chairman. He will be assisted by Carlton Winhauser and Carl Hintz, Oshkosh. A field trial committee also was appointed with Allen Kerr, Green Bay, chairman. He will be assisted by Donald Kennedy and Arthur Haas, Neenah; Hintz, and Elmer Homuth, Fond du Lac. The committee was instructed to investigate the rules and regulations on field trials and make preliminary plans for a field trial for next spring.

Two guest speakers addressed the club. Claude Jasper, Madison, trainer of field trial dogs, told the members about field trial work being done by the Badger Kennel club and discussed the possibilities for holding a trial in this section. A. J. J. Chicago, talked about the work being done by kennel club throughout the United States.

The club's next meeting will be June 21 in Neenah.

29 Schools Entered In State Net Tourney

Neenah — Entries from three more schools received today by Principal J. H. Holzman, tournament manager, brought the number of teams competing here Friday and Saturday in the annual state high school tennis tournament to 29. The three schools are Menasha, Fort Atkinson and West Bend.

Pairings for the tournament are being completed today by Ole Jorgensen, physical education instructor, who will run the tournament.

Mothers, Daughters Hear Talk on Work Of Christian Center

Neenah — Miss Ruth Howard, Christian Center, Milwaukee, outlined the work of the center, its clubs and mothers' organizations, at the Mother and Daughter banquet of Whiting Memorial Baptist church Wednesday evening in the church. Miss Howard told the group that during April over 5,000 children and adults participated in activities at the center.

The program opened with a piano duet by Grace and Alice Smith after which Mrs. Aldo Ott and Miss Doris Harrington presented a vocal duet. Ruth Johnson gave a reading, "When Mother Upped Her Hair," and Mrs. Leslie Johnson who was toastmistress and program chairman, read "An It for Girls."

More than 90 mothers and daughters of the parish attended the gathering.

Plans Commission Approves Laudan Street Extension

Neenah — The city plans commission at a meeting last night at the city hall voted to recommend to the city council the extension of Laudan street from Reed street to S. Park avenue and also decided to recommend that the council accept the Christoph plat which is west of S. Lake street between Main and Cherry streets.

The commission was organized with Mayor Edwin A. Kalfahs reappointing Alvin A. Staffeld as commission secretary. Members of the commission besides the mayor and Staffeld are Aldermen John Heigl, William Schmidt, Louis J. Howman, City Attorney John W. O'Leary, City Engineer A. G. Prunuske and Dr. J. M. Donovan, chairman of the park board.

Freshmen Track Squad To Meet Kimberly Team

Neenah — Neenah high school freshmen track team will oppose trackmen from the Kimberly school seventh and eighth grades in a track meet this afternoon, according to Coach Ole Jorgensen. All events except the mile, discus and high hurdles will be run.

CROSSINGS BLOCKED

Neenah — Crossings along the Chicago and North Western railroad track from E. Wisconsin avenue past S. Commercial street were barricaded for about 20 minutes at 9:30 this morning when a draw bar on a freight train was broken. There was little delay in traffic which was rerouted during the time.

Menasha Net Squad Will Enter Weekend Tourney at Neenah

Menasha — The Menasha high school tennis team will enter the state high school tennis tournament at Neenah High school this weekend. Play in both the singles and the doubles will start on Friday and will be concluded on Saturday. Straight elimination matches will be played.

Coach O. F. Johanson has nominated George Bendt and Henry Landskron to enter the singles competition. Bendt, No. 1 Menasha player, leads the Menasha High squad with four victories in 10 matches. Landskron, No. 2 player, has won two out of seven matches.

The Menasha doubles team will be William Machie, captain of the team, and William Schmitzer. In singles competition Schmitzer has won two and lost eight while Machie has won one out of 10. Schmitzer and Machie placed fourth in the conference doubles.

Stilp Describes Work Of County Patrolmen

Menasha — Irving Stilp, captain of the Winnebago county traffic police, described the work of his department at the Wednesday noon luncheon meeting of the Menasha Rotary club at Hotel Menasha.

Stilp detailed the number of arrests, warnings and investigations made by the county police and pointed out the improvement in the safety record last year. The work of the department in investigating accidents also was described.

JANDREY'S

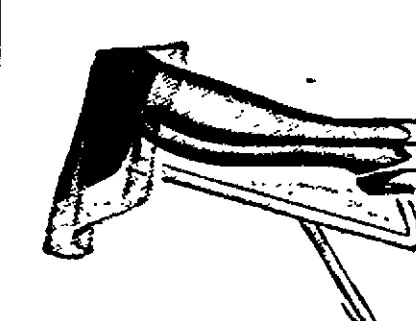

73rd ANNIVERSARY SALE

BEGINS TOMORROW CONTINUES TWO WEEKS

Seventy-three years ago Wm. Kellett established a dry goods and general store in the Village of Neenah, now familiarly known as Jandrey's. It was in 1866, one year after the close of the Civil War. As Neenah-Menasha grew — so grew Jandrey's, steadily — consistently. It was built on the fundamentals that quality, service and satisfaction will win and hold patronage — and still in 1939, seventy-three years later, these same principles govern. Customers are not merely customers at Jandrey's; they are friends first, customers last. That is the spirit of Jandrey's.

Simonds Again Is P.T.A. President

Clintonville Association Has Last Meeting Of Season

Clintonville — G. D. Simonds, president, and John Buchens, vice president, were re-elected for the ensuing year by the Parent-Teacher association, which held its closing meeting of the season Wednesday evening. Mrs. Floyd Hurley was chosen secretary and Miss Gerda Jacobson, treasurer, for the 1939-40 school year. They will succeed Walter Rohm and Robert Strassburg, respectively.

Those appointed as heads of committees for the ensuing year are: Mrs. George Spiegel, program; Mrs. C. A. Seidel, membership; Miss Helen Silverwood, marquis; Mrs. S. H. Sanford, projects; and Albert Fritz, ways and means.

Mrs. Floyd Hurley, delegate to the Wisconsin Congress of Parents and Teachers at Madison April 18 to 20, reported on the convention. There were 906 delegates in attendance, the largest number ever registered at a state congress. The general theme of the programs was "Building for Well-Balanced Lives."

The dramatic club, under the direction of Miss Fern Schenck, presented two one act plays. The cast for "Ask Nancy" included: Betty Kort, Marjorie Stien, Hope Martin, Joanne Krause and Vernell Lichtenberg. Included in the cast of characters for "The Ring and the Look" were: Russell Knister, Wesley Thies, Joan Stein, Geraldine Boyce, Betty Hurley, Rita Schilling, Mary Murphy and Nathalie Thirk.

Mr. Simonds announced that he would call a meeting of the P. T. A. officers and all committee heads to outline a program for the ensuing year.

RINSO'S LONGER-LASTING SUDS SPEED UP DISHWASHING, AND I FIND RINSO IS EASY AS EVER ON HANDS

I COME IN 3 SIZES — REGULAR, LARGE AND GIANT

New 1940 Rinso goes farther than ever In tests against 16 well-known soaps, it was proven that the New 1940 Rinso, with its amazing new "suds booster," washes clothes up to 10 shades whiter, gives up to 3 times as much suds. Rinso saves time, work and money.

RINSO SOAKS CLOTHES CLEAN IN AS LITTLE AS 10 MINUTES. NO HARD SCRUBBING MEANS CLOTHES LAST LONGER!

Staff Is Named For School Paper

Ninth Issue of Chief Shioe
Is Published at Shiocton

Shiocton—The ninth number of the Shiocton High school paper, Chief Shioe, was issued this last week.

Miss Grehn has announced the following staff for the next year: Editor in chief, David Brooker; assistant editor, Sylvia Hall; production manager, Melvin Jarchow; sports editor, Glen Parker; art editor, Doris Oaks; humor editor, Dorothy Pooler; literary editor, Caroline Middleton; reporters, Lucille Gehring, Rosal Herminath, Lola Mae Harcks, Ruel Falk, typists, Betty Nelson, Geraldine Scott, Marcella Servais.

Shiocton High school has introduced a new system by which a trophy is awarded to the outstanding boxer of the year. The first trophy of this kind was awarded to Daniel McGlone a young sophomore. This trophy is a silver figure of a man in boxing position mounted on a base. Plans for a more extensive boxing program for next year are being made.

To a Woman, Every Day is "EXPOSITION" Day

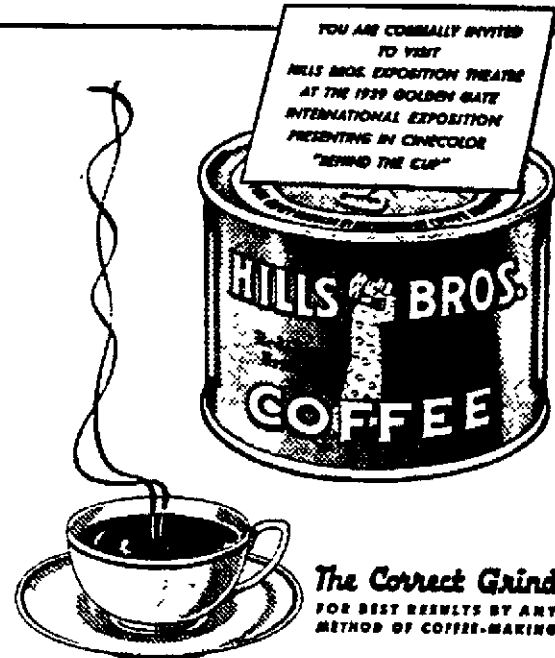

Guests will be arriving shortly. Everything in the table-setting must be exactly right . . . it is "Exposition" night for any hostess.

Do your guests like the coffee you serve?

It is important that they do. For visiting tastes have long memories regarding coffee—the "Exposition" of any meal. However, if Hills Bros. Coffee is served, there need be nothing for you to worry about. For sixty-one years millions of women have used Hills Bros. Coffee because they knew it would be exactly right in the cup . . . because they knew they would hear these highly-prized words—"Now that's what I call good coffee!"

FED FOR FOOD!

Some Poultry is raised for egg production, some just for obtaining so many pounds of flesh, while a third sort is bred and fed with the single object of developing it to its supreme degree of palatability as food. Our poultry is raised for food deliciousness alone. Try it. TASTE the difference.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

STORY OF THE BATTLESHIP IV Dreadnought and the World War

Thirty-four years ago, a big new battleship was built, by Great Britain. The facts about it were kept secret during the building. At least, the general public was told almost nothing about it in the news papers. Foreign spies probably learned a great deal and told their governments everything they found out.

When the new vessel was launched, the secrets were made open to the public. It was called the "Dreadnought," a name meaning "Fear Nothing."

The "Dreadnought" had 10 big guns, each of 12-inch caliber. It was 490 feet long, and had a speed of 21 knots per hour. At the waterline, the belt of armour was 11 inches thick.

That was perhaps the most powerful ship of the year 1905. Partly because of the special effort to keep facts about it secret, it became famous. When other ships of the same type were built, people called them "dreadnoughts."

In 1908 and 1910, Great Britain launched other and even more powerful vessels. Among them was the "Orion," with 10 guns of 13 and one-half inch caliber.

In 1912, two years before the World war, the "Queen Elizabeth" took to the water. It had a length of 600 feet, and carried eight 15-inch guns, as well as a number of six-inch guns.

In the period before the World war, Great Britain was having a "race" with Germany to build the most powerful navy. Germany had entered the field rather late, and did not catch up.

During the World war, the Germans kept their main fleet in safe harbors most of the time. They feared to fight the British warships.

In 1916, however, near the end of May, the German high seas fleet dared to go out on the North sea, and there they fought a battle with the British grand fleet.

It was a fast and furious fight, and took place about 90 miles west of the coast of Denmark. It is known as the Battle of Jutland. The British had 28 battleships, the Germans 22. In addition, there were cruisers, destroyers and other vessels on both sides.

Although the German vessels tried to find cover, and did at last escape, they lost fewer men than the British. The Germans lost one battleship and five cruisers, and the British lost six cruisers. Both sides lost torpedo craft.

Near the end of the war, the German fleet was ordered to go out on the North sea "to break the blockade." The sailors would not go.

Hollywood — There's a significance in the warm welcome being given made-in-England pictures by the American public. "Pygmalion," with an all-British cast, is one of the year's greatest hits; "The Benchmarker," "Prison Without Bars," and half-a-dozen other imports are out-drawing top-notch Hollywood productions — and "Goodbye, Mr. Chips," as English throughout as a Bond Street monocle shop, looks like the greatest success of all. They've all been excellent entertainment, but — and here's the point I want to stress — ten years ago, nine out of every ten American audiences would have turned thumbs down on them regardless of their quality. Americans — especially those living outside the great metropolitan centers — did not like "foreigners." And, of all things foreign and disliked, the you—she suspiciously appraises every visitor on her set.

MEMORIES THAT BLESS AND BURN: When Zasu Pitts after-the-theatre waffle parties were a Hollywood highlight... When Art Acord held up production to convince a sneering set-visitor that he could really rope... When Joan Bennett, just divorced from her first husband, firmly assured me that she was through with love "forever"... When Lupe Velez, to register mild disapproval of an interviewer's questions, pushed him into her swimming pool... When Renee Adoree, fatally ill, complained that not her lost health, but the forgetfulness of her Hollywood friends, was giving her the deepest hurt... When Roscoe Arbuckle, speaking in behalf of the Community Chest, offered to subscribe, dollar for dollar, with the entire audience.

Robert Taylor's aversion to adult set-visitors while, at the same time, welcoming all kid lookers-on, always puzzled me until I heard his very logical explanation the other day. Bob has been indulging in analysis. He finds that men, giving away to curiosity about "how it's done," invariably tip-toe, heavily and drolly, from one vantage spot to another. Women, uncurious but cattily critical, whisper annoyingly about the leading lady's appearance. Only the kids, everywhere else damned for their noise making, are sufficiently awed by a movie set to stand still and say nothing.

Johnson Is Relected Editor of Lawrentian

Hollandtown Annual 'Schut' Scheduled to be Held June 18

Hollandtown—At the annual meeting of St. Francis society of St. Francis church Sunday afternoon at Van Abel's hall it was decided to hold the annual "Schut" June 18. This is more than a 900-year-old custom of Holland and was established at "Franciscus Bosch," as Hollandtown was called at the time of the early settlers, and has been kept alive by the Dutch settlers. "Franciscus Bosch" was settled on June 8, 1848, by new colonists whom Father Gothard had brought with him, when he accompanied Father Van Den Broek from Alkmaar, Holland. Some settlers went to Freedom and others to Green Bay and DeFere.

Among the first settlers here were Henry Gerrits, Henry Van De Hey, Martin Verkuilen, Albert Van Den Berg, John Verboort, John Tielens, H. Verkampen, Henry Hoevenier. The priest could not visit Hollandtown each Sunday, but the pioneers nevertheless came through the thickness of the woods, rain or shine and gathered in their log church for Sunday devotions and

Henry Van De Hey, the venerable patriarch, was selected as leader. Soon other families followed the first settlers, the Catholic settlement flourished and a tract of land was purchased for church purposes. A part of this land was sold for homes and helped the beginners and poor farmers in the building of a frame church 100 by 50 feet. This church was called St. Francis. St. Francis society, the oldest society of St. Francis church, and also called the "Schut" was organized when the congregation was yet in its infancy, in 1849, and has been in existence ever since. Every year this society has a day jollification when "shooting day" dawned. It is the day of the shooting of the bird. All members attend solemn mass at 8 o'clock, and at 10 o'clock the members meet at William Van Abel's hall and march to the shooting grounds one quarter mile west of St. Francis church.

The "bird" is furnished by the "king" of the previous year and is made of some tough wood and secured firmly to the top of an 80-foot pole, and then the aspirants for "kingly" honors shoot to their hearts content at the bird until riddled by the rain bullets, some one brings down the last fragment of the "bird" and he is declared "king" for the ensuing year.

Gilbert Broeren, king of the last schut will defend his title on June 18. Dinner will be served at Van Abel's hall. Dancing will follow in the afternoon and evening.

Officers of St. Francis society were relected for another term at the meeting: President, Ben Vande Yacht; vice president, Clarence Eiling; captain, Richard Vander Loop.

Be A Careful Driver

Wisconsin's Health

BY DR. CORNELIUS A. HARPER
State Health Officer

It was a mistake to have eaten that hot mince pie so late in the evening, but the resultant night-mare was enlightening, at that. It went something like this:

The year was 1930, A. D., and the walls of the state health department were hung with charts.

One chart was entitled "The Archaic Diseases," and showed that once upon a time people had suffered from ailments known as tuberculosis, diphtheria, smallpox and typhoid fever.

Another chart was devoted to what were called "The Preventable Diseases." They turned out to be scarlet fever, influenza, pneumonia, whooping cough and infantile paralysis.

Shows Death Causes
A third chart showed the chief death causes of the period. Heart diseases were still in the lead, just as back in 1939, but were much further in the lead than in that early period, due to war shock. It seems that only the elders were allowed to do the fighting. Wounds of war were the second leading death cause, and third was an ailment called pedal atrophy, which a clerk explained as a new common withering of the feet caused by the universal insistence upon sitting all day and using motor transport even for crossing the room. The average age at death was 66, but why anyone should want to be alive that long under the current rules was difficult to comprehend. Exercise was indulged in only by a few professionals, in whom the necessary energy was artificially engendered. Their athletic pursuits were watched with tired eyes by means of television. It was a great relief to awaken.

Three-quarter suspender slacks in bright blue, worn over a yellow linen crash blouse are Lana Turner's choice for garden work. Wooden buttons with centers of gold nail-heads match the actress' wooden clog shoes.

Nearly 6,000,000 United States farms have poultry flocks.

most resented was an English accent. It sounded like a toney affectation, and was not to be tolerated.

Today there are more English accents than American inflections on the screen — even in Hollywood-made pictures. And the old-time resentment on the part of our theatre-goers has been completely routed. Familiarity has done it. Films depicting English locales, English themes and English heroes have, one by one, painlessly forced even the most insular Americans to an understanding and appreciation of a great people who were our traditional enemies.

Could there be a finer illustration of the screen's power to smooth out international relationships — to banish inter-racial distrusts and hatreds? Hollywood wields a weapon mightier than the sword.

PERSONAL OBSERVATIONS: Pat O'Brien, in his 50-year-old make-up for "Heaven on a Shoestring," is a dead ringer for Frank Morgan. Nothing could be more flattering to a male's ego than the rapt attention Loretta Young pays to her escort's conversation. Lee Tracy is the only actor who can give a derby that certain "something." Don't let Kay Francis's seeming absorption in her knitting fool

Summer Classes Are Planned for Band Beginners

Parents, Prospective Pupils Will Meet With Director

New London — Organization of summer classes for beginners in band music will be held at a meeting of prospective pupils and their parents at the Washington High school auditorium at 7:30 Friday evening.

M. S. Zahrt, director of the New London High school band, has been testing pupils of fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades in all schools in the city this week and those showing an aptitude for music will be recommended for the classes.

The summer classes are free of charge and arrangements will be made at Friday's meeting for the rental of instruments for the season. Classes will begin the first week after the close of school.

The New London band received the highest honors available to high school units when it placed first in Class A at the district festival at Clintonville last week. The band, orchestra and vocal groups placed first in their respective classes and all received very favorable recommendations from the judges.

The positions of 12 graduating seniors will have to be filled in the Senior band next fall. Those making their last appearance with the band this month are Mary Dawson, drum major for four years, Orville Sanders, Arleigh Zuege, Gertrude Ploetz, Valda Gehrke, Angelina Runge, Earl Krenke, Edith St. George, Patricia Chegwinn, Jane Huebner, Marjorie Miller and Audrey Dean.

Industrial League Softball Teams to Begin Play Monday

New London — Final arrangements to open city softball leagues on Monday, May 22, will be made at a meeting of industrial team managers at 7:15 p.m. at the city recreation director's office.

A 4-team pool will begin play Monday evening at the Washington High school grounds.

The Senior Men's league will start play at 6:30 Tuesday evening with at least six teams participating. Those entered are two teams from the Lutheran Men's club, the Edison, Plywood, Bordens, and Congressional Men's club, The Methodist Men's club and Knights of Columbus may swell the loop to eight teams.

The tentative set-up in the Industrial league has the Plywood, Bordens and Gambles teams listed with a fourth still to be organized.

Grade School Pupils Perform for Mothers

New London — Mothers have been entertained at two class programs at Lincoln grade school during the last week. The first grade under Miss Flora Mattler presented a program of poems and stories about birds at 2:30 this afternoon to conclude a study unit on bird life. Bird drawings and bird houses also were exhibited.

Thirty-three mothers attended a play, "Rumpelstiltskin," presented by the fourth grade under Miss Edna Crocker last Friday afternoon. The entire class took part in the play which was written and revised by members of the class and presented in the classroom.

School Yearbook Will Be Distributed Friday

New London — The Washington High school annual yearbook, "The Classmate," arrived from the publishers this week and will be distributed to students Friday, according to H. H. Helms, superintendent of schools. The 32-page book abounds in photographs and features green colored decorations throughout its pages. The black and green covers are fastened with a modern spiral binding of green plastic material.

Henry Behn Funeral Is Conducted at Brillion

Brillion — Funeral services for Henry Behn, 90, retired town of Brillion farmer, will be conducted at 1:30 Saturday from the Luecker funeral home at Brillion and at 2 o'clock from the Trinity Lutheran church in Brillion by the Rev. M. F. Sauer. The bearers will be Charles Steinbach, Albert Lau, Henry Isack, Hans Hansen, William Enzel and Edward Janke, all of Brillion.

NO CANDIDATES Jorgins, N. S. — Town Clerk

Patrick is taking his problem to the province's department of municipal affairs. Twice he has called for nominations, but none have come forward to take the place of Mayor R. J. Melanson and members of town council whose terms have expired.

NEW LONDON OFFICE

News and Circulation departments of the Appleton Post-Crescent are represented in New London by Alvin J. Braut, 203 E. Cook Street. News items and orders for subscriptions may be left at that address or may be telephoned by calling 18. Papers missed by carriers will be delivered if complaint is made before 7 p. m.

KIMBERLY HIGH SENIORS TO GIVE CLASS PLAY FRIDAY NIGHT

Kimberly—Shown in this picture, taken on the stage of the Kimberly Clubhouse Monday afternoon, is part of the cast that will present the Kimberly High School's senior class play at 8 o'clock Friday evening at the Kimberly Clubhouse. The play is a three-act comedy, entitled, "Growing Pains," by Aurania Rouverol, and is directed by Miss Maxine Schillingman. Safety Awards Go To Three Pupils From New London

Grade School Students Enter Posters in Club Competition

New London—New London grade school youngsters took all three cash prizes in a safety poster contest held at the annual convention of the Seventh District of Federated Women's clubs at Shawano last week. It was announced yesterday by officers of the New London Women's Study club who entered the pictures.

Children from first, second, third and fourth grades of schools all over the district competed for prizes. Winners were Bruce Lercher, fourth grade pupils at Lincoln school, first; Jane Plate, fourth grade pupil at Most Precious Blood Catholic school, second; Geraldine Schoenrock, first grade pupil at Lincoln school, third. The posters were cut-outs and are now on display at the New London Public Library.

Club Sponsors Contest

Winners in a local art contest sponsored by the Study club among the sixth, seventh and eighth grades of New London public schools were announced this week. Through the cooperation of Miss Edna Crocker, fourth grade teacher at Lincoln school who also directs art work as an extra activity, there were many outstanding entries in the contest.

The winning pictures and honorable mentions were placed on special exhibition at the conference of women's clubs at Shawano last week and now are also on display at the New London Library.

Winners among the eighth grade contestants was Raymond Quant, among seventh graders, Donald Schoenrock; sixth grades, Rowell Phillips. Because of a large entry list from the seventh grade, Ruth Lercher and Jean Pahl were given second and third places, respectively. Receiving honorable mention were Joyce Palmer, David Smith, Carmen Oestreich and Robert Nelson.

The art subjects concerned outdoor activities similar to the state-wide Helen Mears contest. The pictures were done in water colors or chalk.

Part-Time Students Of Agriculture to Make Madison Trip

New London—Arrangements are being made by L. M. Warner, New London high school agriculture instructor, to take about 75 of his part-time agriculture students and farmers of adult night classes to a field day at the experimental station of the College of Agriculture at the University of Wisconsin at Madison on Saturday, June 3.

The latest in farm experimentation will be demonstrated at the station on that day and a disease and pest clinic will be held. Those attending the demonstrations may bring diseased plants or animals to the clinic for diagnosis and advice.

The large group will be transported to Madison in the two high school buses.

New London Squad To Race at Neenah

21 Tracksters are Selected For Conference Meet Saturday

New London — Twenty-one New London high school tracksters, the same squad that competed for state qualifications at Wisconsin Rapids last week, will seek to take more honors for New London at a conference track meet at Neenah Saturday.

The Stacymen lost the Rapids meet to Shawano by only 3.8 points and would have clinched first if Douglas Hoier, ace high jumper and hurdler, had not fallen in the high hurdles to lose the race. He was leading the field by a full hurdle at the second to last jump and fell into the hurdle, injuring his knee, when he stepped on a soft spot on the track. Gilman Hart, Weyauwega star, stumbled in the same manner on the same hurdle in Class C race, but qualified as there were only two others racing. Efforts by Coach D. N. Slacy to have Hoier qualified for wide Helen Mears contest. The pictures were done in water colors or chalk.

The state meet in view of the circumstances, failed.

At the district meet New London boys placed in every event but the 440-yard run and weight events. However, Harold Bermann and Bernard Freiburger are expected to make a showing in the shot and discus, respectively, at Neenah this week.

The state contests will be held at Madison next Saturday, May 27.

FEEL WEAK? NERVOUS? NO PEP? Due to Bloat, Gas, Lazy Bowels HERE'S GOOD NEWS!

Thousands of People Are Finding Relief and Greater Joy in Living, by Taking the Remarkable Medicine, WILLIAMS FORMULA—Now Obtainable at Leading Drug Stores, and Costs Only a Few Cents a Day to Take.

Are you one of the many unhappy people who suffer from Stomach Gas & Bloat, lack of appetite, constipation, acid-irritated kidneys? Thousands of men and women have found QUICK RELIEF by using the great scientific medicine known as "Williams Formula."

This medicine acts on your digestion, acid irritated kidneys, sluggish colon and even your blood, all through the action of PURE NATURAL HERBS and other harmless ingredients.

Wisconsin Man Praises Williams Formula

We wish we could let you read all the letters that grateful people write to us praising Williams Formula. We know you would rejoice with these people in the relief they tell about. One such letter is from Mr. Charles E. Thrall, 553 S. Main Street, Fond du Lac, Wisconsin. Read what he has to say about Williams Formula and judge for yourself why this medicine has been so widely accepted.

READ THIS AMAZING EXPERIENCE
Mr. Charles E. Thrall, well-known railroad man, a resident of Fond du Lac, Wis., for 23 years, makes the following interesting statement: "I am glad to tell what this remarkable medicine, Williams Formula has done for me. For some time I have had to be careful about what I ate. After eating, I would have distressing gas pains, and I would belch quite a lot. It was evident my stomach was not digesting my food properly, and too, I suffered with constipation. Some time ago, I decided to try Williams Formula. I can truthfully say it has surely helped me. It relieves that painful gas, belching, and constipation. I think Williams Formula is a very fine preparation and I will gladly recommend it."

Travel Book by Long Among Works Released for Circulation

New London — A new travel book of singular adventure on the high seas, "Seven Seas on a Shoe-string" by Dwight Long, is the feature offering among the new books at the New London Public Library this week. It is a sea story of a man who circles the globe in a 32-foot ketch with a 1-man crew and a dog as mascot.

Dorothy Parker's collection of popular short stories is now available in a book called "Here Lies." A shrewd observer of human nature, Miss Parker writes of people as they really are and makes them laugh at themselves whether they want to or not.

A short novel artistic in its simplicity is August Derleth's "Any Day Now." One of Wisconsin's own writers, Derleth's story of Renna and Doctor Joe gives a complete picture of a period of peace and quiet in a small town. "Teem—a Treasure Hunter" by Rudyard Kipling also is a short story but memorable among his famous animal works.

Among the few historical novels which become definite contributions to American literature is "The Tree of Liberty" by Elizabeth Page. Representing five years of actual writing and many more of research, the book covers the period of early America from 1754 to 1806, from the Atlantic seaboard across the frontiers into the far-reaching western wilderness.

Miss Grace Fleischer, librarian, spent Tuesday at Neenah at a conference of librarians of the Fox River Valley district.

The state meet in view of the circumstances, failed.

At the district meet New London boys placed in every event but the 440-yard run and weight events. However, Harold Bermann and Bernard Freiburger are expected to make a showing in the shot and discus, respectively, at Neenah this week.

The state contests will be held at Madison next Saturday, May 27.
